Using this book

Why was this book written?

It was written to help you to improve your English vocabulary. It will help you to learn not only the meanings of words but also how they are used. You can use this book either with a teacher or for self-study.

How is the book organised?

The book has 100 two-page units. In most units, the left-hand page explains the words and expressions to be studied in that unit. Where appropriate, it gives information about how the words are used as well as their meaning. The right-hand page checks that you have understood the information on the left-hand page by giving you a series of exercises practising what you have just learnt. Occasionally the right-hand page will also teach you some more new words.

There is a key at the back of the book. The key does not always simply give you one right answer. It sometimes also comments on the answers and will help you learn more about the words studied in the unit.

There is an index at the back of the book. This lists all the words and phrases covered in the book and refers you to the units where these words or phrases are discussed. The index also tells you how difficult and unusual words are pronounced. It uses the International Phonetic Alphabet to do this and the symbols you need to know are listed at the beginning of the index.

How should I use this book?

The book is divided into a number of sections. Complete the seven introductory units first. These units not only teach you some useful new vocabulary but they also help you with useful techniques for vocabulary learning in general. After completing those units, you might want to work straight through the book or you might prefer to do the units in any order that suits you.

What else do I need in order to work with this book?

You need some kind of vocabulary notebook or file where you can write down the new words you are learning. (See Unit 3 for advice on how to do this.)

You also need to have access to a couple of good dictionaries. This book selects the words that are most important for you to learn at your level and it gives you the most important information about those words but you will sometimes need to refer to a dictionary as well for extra information about meaning and usage. Firstly, you need an English-English dictionary for foreign learners. Good ones are The Cambridge International Dictionary of English, the Longman Dictionary of Contemporary English, the Oxford Advanced Learner's Dictionary and the Collins Cobuild English Language Dictionary, for example. Secondly, you will also find a good bilingual dictionary useful. Ask a teacher to recommend a good bilingual dictionary for you. (See Unit 5 for advice on using your dictionaries.)

I Learning vocabulary – general advice

A What do you need to learn?

- 1 How many words are there in English? At least:
a) 10,000    b) 100,000    c) 250,000    d) 500,000
- 2 Winston Churchill was famous for his particularly large vocabulary. How many words did he use in his writing?
a) 10,000    b) 60,000    c) 100,000    d) 120,000
- 3 How many words does the average native English speaker use in his/her everyday speech?
a) 2,500    b) 5,000    c) 7,500    d) 10,000
- 4 How many words make up 45% of everything written in English?
a) 50    b) 250    c) 1,000    d) 2,500

To sum up, there are many words you don't need at all and there are other words that you simply need to understand when you read or hear them. Finally, there are words which you need to be able to use yourself. Clearly you need to spend most time learning this last group.

In the text below mark the words you'd like to be able to use.

English vocabulary has a remarkable range, flexibility and adaptability. Thanks to the periods of contact with foreign languages and its readiness to coin new words out of old elements, English seems to have far more words in its core vocabulary than other languages. For example, alongside kingly (from Anglo-Saxon) we find royal (from French) and regal (from Latin). There are many such sets of words which add greatly to our opportunities to express subtle shades of meaning at various levels of style.

You probably marked many words that you would like to be able to use. Unless you are studying linguistics, however, you probably need only to understand, rather than to use, the verb 'coin' as used in the context above.

What does knowing a new word mean?

- It is not enough just to know the meaning of a word. You also need to know:
  - a) what words it is usually associated with
  - b) whether it has any particular grammatical characteristics
  - c) how it is pronounced
- Try to learn new words not in isolation but in phrases.
- Write down adjectives together with nouns they are often associated with and vice versa, e.g. royal family; rich vocabulary.
- Write down verbs with the structure and nouns associated with them, e.g. to add to our knowledge of the subject; to express an opinion.
- Write down nouns in phrases, e.g. in contact with; a train set; shades of opinion.
- Write down words with their prepositions, e.g. at a high level; thanks to your help.
- Note any grammatical characteristics of the words you are studying. For example, note when a verb is irregular and when a noun is uncountable or is only used in the plural.
- Make a note of any special pronunciation problems with the words you're learning.

- How could you record the following?
a) chilly   b) dissuade   c) king   d) up to the ears   e) independent   f) get married
- What would you record beside the following words?
a) scissors   b) weather   c) teach   d) advice   e) lose   f) trousers
- What might you note beside the following words?
a) comb   b) catastrophe   c) photograph/photographer

C

Can you learn just by reading or listening to English?

You will certainly help yourself to learn English vocabulary not only by studying with this book but also by reading and listening to English. Give each of the items on the lists below a mark from 0 to 4 describing how important this way of learning vocabulary could be for you personally. Example: newspapers 3 newspapers   TV (cable / subtitled)   cinema   magazines   video radio (e.g. BBC World Service)   academic or professional literature   fiction simplified readers (with or without cassettes) music or other cassettes   talking to native speakers

D

What should you do when you come across new words?

When you are reading something in English, don't look up every new word or expression or you will soon get fed up. Only look up something that is really important for understanding the text. When you have finished reading, look back at what you have read and then perhaps look up some extra words and write down new expressions that interest you.

Similarly when you listen to English don't panic when you hear some words or expressions that you don't know. Keep listening and the overall meaning will often become clear.

When you read or listen to English it is sometimes possible to guess the meaning of a word you don't know before you look up or ask its meaning. Decide first what part of speech the word is and then look for clues in its context or form.

Before you read the text below, check whether you know what the underlined words mean.

A tortoise is a shelled reptile famed for its slowness and longevity. The Giant Tortoise of the Galapagos may attain over 1.5 metres in length and have a lifespan of more than 150 years. Smaller tortoises from Southern Europe and North Africa make popular pets. They need to be tended carefully in cool climates and must have a warm place in which they can hibernate.

Which of the marked words can you perhaps guess from the context or from the way the word is formed? Guess and then check whether you were correct by using a dictionary. Some words are impossible to guess from context or the structure of the word. In such cases, ask someone or go to a dictionary for help.

E

How are you going to plan your vocabulary learning?

- How many words and expressions do you intend to learn each week?
a) 5   b) 10   c) 15   d) more than 15
- Where and when are you going to learn them?
a) on your way to school or work   b) before dinner   c) in bed   d) other
- How often are you going to revise your work?
a) once a week   b) once a month   c) before a test   d) once a year

2 Learning vocabulary – aids to learning

A

Help yourself to learn by learning associated words together

Learn words with associated meanings together.

Learning words together that are associated in meaning is a popular and useful way of organising your vocabulary study.

1 Complete this network for the word CAT. Add as many other bubbles as you like.

If possible, compare your network with those done by other students. Add any of their ideas that you like to your network.

Learn words with a grammatical association together.

2 Here are some groups of words, each of which has a grammatical connection. Can you see what the connection is? What other words could you add to these groups?

a) child tooth ox    b) cut split burst    c) information furniture food

Learn together words based on the same root.

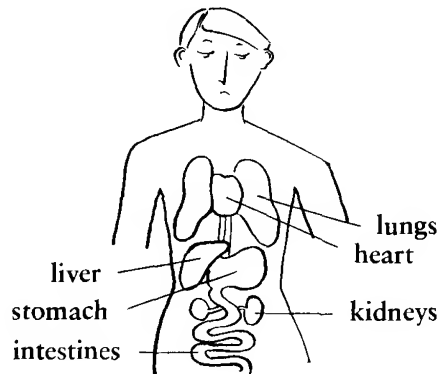

3 Can you add any words or expressions to these two groups?

a) price priceless overpriced
b) handy single-handed give me a hand

B

Pictures and diagrams can help you learn

Here are some ways in which pictures might help you to remember vocabulary.

Can you draw any pictures that would help you remember the following vocabulary?

a circle    to look a gift horse in the mouth    screwdriver

Word trees can be useful.

1 Look at the word tree for holiday. Now complete a tree for school.

Word forks are good ways of learning adjectives and verbs.

2 Look at the complete word forks below. Finish the others.

original		shoot		magnificent		kick
brilliant		edit		breathtaking		hit unusual	idea	direct	a film	superb	view	bounce	a ball great		star in excellent		review

Matrices can also clarify collocations.

This book will sometimes use matrices to help to clarify word associations. Look at the following example of a matrix:

	a car	a motorbike	a train	a horse	a plane to fly					+
to drive	+		+
to ride		+		+

3 Now complete the following sentences.

- She has always wanted to have the chance to ..... a train.
- Russian women are not allowed to ..... passenger aircraft.
- ..... a motorbike can be very dangerous.

You will do more practice with these and other ways of writing down vocabulary in Unit 3.

3 Organising a vocabulary notebook

There is no one correct way to organise a vocabulary notebook, but it is a good idea to think about possible ways of doing so. Here are some possibilities and examples.

A Organising words by meaning

This book divides vocabulary into a large number of different topics, probably far too many for a notebook, but you could try dividing your book into different broad sections, with sections for words for feelings, words to describe places, words for movement, words for thinking, etc. In this way you can build families of words related in meaning.

B Using various types of diagrams

Words that can be grouped under a heading or a more general word can be drawn as a tree-diagram. (See also Unit 2.)

The dotted lines mean that you can add more words to the tree as you meet them.

A bubble-network is also useful, since you can make it grow in whatever direction you want it to. (See Unit 2.)

C Organising by word-class

A Spanish learner of English, Angeles, gave us an interview on how she marks word-class in her personal notebook. This is what she said:

'What I have just started doing is to write them depending on if they are verbs or nouns or adjectives or phrases. If they are phrases I write them in red and also the definition. If they are verbs, in black, and blue if they are nouns... And if I write the Spanish translation I write it in another colour, so it's easy to see... I draw some pictures too.'

D When you meet a synonym or an antonym of a word you already have in your book, enter it next to that word with a few notes:

urban ≠ rural    stop = cease (more formal)

Exercises

- 3.1 Here is a list of words a Spanish learner of English has made in her vocabulary notebook. How could she improve them and organise them better?

clock - reloj
tell the time - decir la hora
rush - darse prisa
office - despacho beneath } under }
I must rush - tengo prisa / tengo que correr drowsy - the room was hot and I got drowsy wristwatch - reloj de pulsera
What time do you make it?
next to - junto a / al lado de hands - the minute-hand (minutero)
wide-awake (fully awake)

- 3.2 Here is a word-map, a variation on the bubble-network. What word do you think should go in the middle of the diagram?

- 3.3 One learner we interviewed said he tested himself regularly with his notebook, covering up the word and trying to guess it from the translation he had written or from any other notes he had made. This was his system:
- 1 If the notes and/or translation were clear but he could not get the word, he made a small red mark in the margin. If any word got three red marks, then it needed extra attention and a special effort to learn it.
  - 2 If the notes and/or translation could not help him guess what the word might be, then the word got a blue mark. A blue mark meant 'Write more information about this word!'
- What is your testing system? Try to make one if you have not got one, or ask other people what they do. Try your system out and decide whether it needs improving.

- 3.4 Making tables for word-classes is a good idea, since you can fill in the gaps over time. What do you think this learner will put in the remaining gaps in the table?

noun	verb	adjective	person
production	produce	.....	producer industry	.....	industrial	.....
export	.....	.....	.....

4 The names of English language words

A The names of basic parts of speech in English

article adjective noun verb adverb preposition conjunction pronoun gerund

B Words relating to nouns

Look at the sentence An artist loves beauty; artist is countable, i.e. it has a plural form (artists), but beauty is uncountable; artist is the subject of the verb as it describes who does the verb; beauty is the object, i.e. what is affected by the verb.

C Words relating to verbs

infinitive (to go) -ing form (going) past participle (gone)

Go (go, gone, went) is an irregular verb whereas live (live, lived, lived) is regular. Go is also intransitive because it does not need an object, e.g. Has Luis gone? Make is transitive because it is followed by an object – you make something.

D Words relating to the construction of words

In the word, irregularity, ir- is a prefix, regular is a root and -ity is a suffix. Fat is the opposite or antonym of thin and plump is a synonym of fat. A word family is a set of words based on one root, e.g. word, wordy, to reword. A phrase does not include a main verb – ‘in a word’ is an example of a phrase. A sentence has a main verb; it begins with a capital letter and ends with a full stop.

E Words relating to pronunciation

A syllable is the minimum sound unit of a language consisting of one vowel and any consonants on either side. There are three syllables in the word ‘minimum’ (the first is mi, the second is ni and the third is mum) and the stress is on the first syllable. Onomatopoeia means forming words that sound like their meaning, e.g. moo, buzz.

F Words and their associations

Register means a style of speaking or writing appropriate to a particular social situation. Thus, slang is an extremely informal register and is only used by people who know each other very well. Colloquial is an adjective referring to language that is suitable mainly for conversation, e.g. He’s a nice guy. Pejorative describes words which have a negative association. Pig-headed is pejorative whereas determined, which is very close in meaning, is not. Collocation refers to words which frequently occur together, e.g. torrential rain, auburn hair.

G Words describing punctuation

.	full stop	,	comma	;	semi-colon	'	apostrophe
-	hyphen	-	dash	!	exclamation mark	?	question mark
( )	brackets	“ ”	inverted commas	ANNE	block capitals

Exercises

4.1 Look at the paragraph about register in F opposite. Find at least three examples of each of the following:

- 1 nouns .....
- 2 verbs .....
- 3 adjectives .....
- 4 adverbs .....
- 5 prepositions .....

4.2 Considering the words in their context in F opposite, mark the nouns you've written in 4.1 with a C (countable) or UC (uncountable). Mark the verbs R (regular) or IR (irregular) and T (transitive) or IT intransitive.

4.3 Complete the following table.

verb	infinitive	-ing form	past participle define	.....	.....	.....
mean	.....	.....	.....
write	.....	.....	.....

4.4 Think about the word informal.

- 1 What is its root, its prefix and its suffix?
- 2 What is its opposite or antonym?
- 3 Has it got any synonyms?
- 4 What words are included in its word family?
- 5 Use it in (a) a phrase and (b) a sentence.

4.5 Look at all the words in bold in sections E, F and G opposite. In each case mark which syllable is stressed.

4.6 Match the following colloquial words with their more formal equivalents below.

- 1 chat (verb)   2 loo   3 chap   4 put up with   5 fiddle (noun) man   violin   lavatory   converse   tolerate

4.7 The following pairs of words are close in meaning but one word in each case is pejorative. Which?

- 1 terrorist / freedom-fighter      3 fluent / wordy      5 cunning / shrewd
- 2 slim / skinny      4 mean / thrifty      6 generous / extravagant

4.8 Give examples of collocations based on the words noun, word and colloquial.

Example: uncountable noun

- ( ) .....
- ; .....
- ? .....
- .....
- “ ” .....
- ' .....
- .....

5 Using your dictionary

A

Good dictionaries can tell you a lot more about a word than just its meaning, including (among other things):

- Synonyms and their differences, e.g. mislay and lose
- Antonyms (opposites), e.g. friend ≠ enemy/foe
- Collocations (how words go together), e.g. auburn combines only with hair (or connected words, e.g. curls)
- Pronunciation: this will mean learning some symbols which are different from the letters of the English alphabet.

θ	th in thick	ð	th in then	tʃ	ch in church
ʃ	sh in she	dʒ	j in jam	ʒ	s in pleasure
ŋ	ng in ring	æ	a in bad	ɒ	o in top ɔ:	o in form	ʊ	u in put	ə	a in about
ʌ	u in up	ɜ:	i in bird

Most other symbols look just like ordinary letters of the English alphabet and their pronunciation is not so hard to guess. But check the table given in the index.

- Word stress: often shown by a mark before the syllable to be stressed or by underlining, e.g. əd'ventʃəl, /wɛs tən/. Make sure you know how your dictionary marks stress.
- Usage: how a word is used and any special grammatical pattern that goes with it, e.g. suggest + clause (not an infinitive) – I suggest you ring her right away.
- Whether a word is used for people and/or things. For example, look at this entry for malignant:

ma·lig·nant /mə'liɡnənt/ adj 1 (of people or their actions) feeling or showing great desire to harm others; malevolent: a malignant slander, attack, thrust. 2 (a) (of a tumour) growing uncontrollably, and likely to prove fatal: The growth is not malignant. (b) (of diseases) harmful to life.
 ▷ ma·lig·nancy /-nənsɪ/ n 1 [U] state of being malignant. 2 [C] malignant tumour.

- Word-class (usually abbreviations n: noun, adj: adjective, etc.), whether a noun is countable or uncountable, and whether a verb is normally transitive (needs an object) or intransitive (doesn't need an object).

B

Don't forget that most words have more than one meaning. In this example, only the second meaning corresponds to the way hairy is used in this sentence:

It was a really hairy journey on the mountain road.

hairy /'heəri/. hairier, hairiest. 1 Someone or something that is hairy is covered with hair. ADJ QUALITY eg ...a plump child with hairy legs... ...a big, hairy man... The function of a mammal's hairy coat is to insulate the body. 2 If you describe a situation as hairy, you mean that it is exciting, worrying, and rather frightening; a very informal use. ADJ QUALITY = nerve-racking, scary eg It got a little hairy when we drove him to the station with less than two minutes to spare.

Exercises

5.1 With a bilingual dictionary, try a double search: look up a word in your language; the dictionary may give several possibilities in English. Look up each of those possibilities in the English section of the dictionary to see how they translate back into your language. This may help you to separate synonyms.

If you own a dictionary, make a little mark in the margin each time you look a word up. If a word gets three or more marks, it is worth an extra effort to learn it. What other learning techniques are there for dictionaries?

5.2 Small, bilingual dictionaries often just give three or four translations for a word you look up, without any explanation. Here are some pictures with translations you might find in such a dictionary. Which ones fit in the sentences? You may need to use a monolingual dictionary.

6 Revising vocabulary

Here is an extract from a psychology book on the importance of revising in an active way.

Probably the commonest fault among students is failure to realise that learning is essentially an active process. Too many students sit for hours passively reading and re-reading notes and textbooks, without ever attempting actively to recall what they have read. The fallacy of this method has been amply shown by experiments.

The same principles apply to more advanced forms of learning: for effective memory, some form of active expression is essential. The student, therefore, should read through the material he wants to master with close attention and should then reproduce the main points aloud or produce a written summary...An hour's concentrated work of this kind is more effective than three hours' passive reading.

(From A Modern Introduction to Psychology, Rex and Margaret Knight)

B Revising with this book

When you revise a unit, first read it through. Then look at anything you wrote in your vocabulary notebook connected with the unit.

Then, and most importantly, try to do something different with the new words and expressions in that unit in order to help fix them in your memory.

Here are some suggestions:

- Highlight (or underline) any words and expressions that you had forgotten or were not sure about.
- Look at the unit and choose ten words and expressions that you particularly want or need to learn. Write them down.
- Look up any words that you selected in an English-English dictionary. Do these words have any other uses or associations that might help you learn them? Looking up the verb, wish, for example, might lead you to wishbone or wishful thinking. Write anything that appeals to you in an appropriate phrase or sentence.
- Perhaps the dictionary can also help you find some other words based on the same root. Looking up the noun, employment, will lead you to the verb, employ, to the nouns, employer and employee, and, perhaps, to the adjectives employable, unemployed and self-employed.
- Write down the words and expressions you wish to learn in phonetic script. Use a dictionary to help you.
- Write down the words and phrases from a unit in your notebook in a different way – put them into a network or a table, perhaps.
- The next day, ask yourself again: How much can I remember?
- Test yourself. Cover part of a word or phrase. Can you remember the complete word or phrase?

When you have done all the steps above that you feel will be useful to you, close your book and notebook and remind yourself of what you have been studying. How much can you remember?

C*Making the new words active

One of the great advantages of revising vocabulary is that it should help you to make the step from having something in your passive vocabulary to having it in your active vocabulary.

Encourage this process by:

- writing the words and expressions you are trying to learn in a sentence relating to your life and interests at the moment.
- making a point of using the new words and expressions in your next class or homework.
- keeping a learning diary in which you note down things that particularly interest you about the words you have learnt.
- watching out for the words and expressions you are trying to learn in your general reading of English. If you come across any of them in use, write them down in their context in your diary or notebook.
- writing a paragraph or story linking the words and expressions you want to learn.

D*What can you remember?

- 1 What do you remember now from the first six units in this book? Answer without looking back at the units.
- 2 Now read through the units again.
- 3 How much do you remember about the units now?
- 4 Choose at least one word and expression from each unit and work through all the suggestions made in B and C above. It may not always be appropriate in your future study to do all the steps in B but try them now for practice.

E*Some plans for your work with this book

- 1 How often are you going to revise what you have done? (Every week? Every five units?)
- 2 Which techniques are you going to use for revising?
- 3 Now write yourself some notes to remind yourself of when you are going to revise. You might like, for instance, to write revise vocabulary in your diary for the next eight Fridays, if you decided to revise every week. Alternatively you could write REVISE in capital letters after, say, every five units in the book.

7 Formal and informal words

Formality is all about your relationship with the person you're speaking or writing to. If you use formal language, it may be because you wish to show respect, politeness, or to put yourself at a distance (for example, 'official' language). Informal language can show friendliness, equality or a feeling of closeness and solidarity with someone. You should never use informal language just to sound fluent or clever.

A Scales of formality

Some groups of words can be put on a scale from (very) formal to (very) informal.

very formal	neutral	very informal offspring	children	kids
abode/residence	house/flat	place
alcoholic beverages	drink	booze

B Short, monosyllabic informal words

Informal versions of words are often short and monosyllabic, as we can see in the right-hand column in the table in A. They include slang words. (Unit 95 has more examples.)

- It cost me ten quid. [pounds]
- I'll help you peel the spuds. [potatoes]
- My bike's been stolen. [bicycle]
- I always go by tube. [word used for the London Underground]
- Come and meet my Mum and Dad. [mother and father]
- Hi! Can't stop; see you, bye! [hello; goodbye]
- The milk's in the fridge. [refrigerator]

C Clippings

Shortening a word tends to make it less formal, as in fridge and bye in B.

- I'll meet you in the lab(oratory). What's on telly tonight? [television]
- We should put an ad(vertisement) / an advert(isement) in the (news)paper.
- Shall I (tele)phone them?
- Her sister's a vet(erinary surgeon).

D Formality in notices, instructions, etc.

You will often see rather formal words in notices and suchlike. Make sure you know the meaning of the words used so that you could tell someone what the notice says using less formal words.

THIS PUBLIC HOUSE IS CLOSED UNTIL FURTHER NOTICE

DO NOT ALIGHT WHILE THE BUS IS IN MOTION

DO NOT ADDRESS THE DRIVER UNLESS THE BUS IS STATIONARY

ARTICLES DEPOSITED MUST BE PAID FOR IN ADVANCE

We regret we cannot accept cheques

Tickets must be purchased before boarding the train

Exercises

- 7.1 If you look up an informal word in a monolingual dictionary, you will often find a neutral equivalent as part of the definition or explanation. For example, the Collins COBUILD dictionary entry for kid says: A kid is a child; an informal use.

Use a monolingual dictionary to find neutral or more formal words for these:

1 kip    2 a pal    3 a chap    4 cheerio    5 swot    6 ta!    7 brainy

- 7.2 Make this conversation more informal by changing some of the words. Refer to the left-hand page if necessary.

JIM: Annie, can you lend me five pounds?

ANNIE: What for?

JIM: Well, I have to go and visit my mother and father, and my bicycle's not working, so I'll have to take a taxi.

ANNIE: Can't you telephone them and say you can't come?

JIM: Well, I could, except I want to go because they always have lots of food, and the refrigerator at our flat is empty, as usual.

ANNIE: Can't you go by Underground?

JIM: Erm...

ANNIE: Anyway, the answer's no.

- 7.3 Say whether you feel the following remarks/sentences are okay, too formal or too informal for each situation described. If the remark/sentence is unsuitable, suggest what the person might say instead.

1 (Teenage boy to teenage girl at disco): D'you fancy an appointment one night next week?

2 (Parent to another parent at a school parents meeting): How many offspring do you have at the school?

3 (Dinner-guest to host/hostess): No thanks, I never consume alcoholic beverages when I'm driving.

4 (Student to University Professor): Will there be lab demonstrations next week?

5 (Business letter to a newspaper office): Dear Sir/Madam, I should like to enquire about the current charges for ads in your paper. My company is considering... etc.

- 7.4 Mini-quiz: Find words on the left-hand page for the following.

1 The opposite of stationary.

2 The opposite of to board.

3 a) to be sorry    b) to buy    c) to speak to 4 Informal versions of Greetings! and Farewell!

- 7.5 Express these notices in neutral or informal language.

Children are requested not to deposit litter in the play-area

Expenses can only be reimbursed upon production of dated receipts

(See also Units 95 and 96 for other informal and formal words and expressions.)

8 Suffixes

Suffixes can change the word-class and the meaning of the word.

A Common noun suffixes

-er /ə/ is used for the person who does an activity, e.g. writer, worker, shopper, teacher.

You can use -er with a wide range of verbs to make them into nouns.

Sometimes, the /ə/ suffix is written as -or instead of -er. It is worth making a special list of these as you meet them, e.g. actor, operator, sailor, supervisor.

-er/-or are also used for things which do a particular job, e.g. pencil-sharpener, bottle-opener, grater, projector.

-er and -ee can contrast with each other meaning 'person who does something.' (-er) and 'person who receives or experiences the action' (-ee), e.g. employer/employee, sender/addressee, payee (e.g. of a cheque).

-(t)ion /ʃ(ə)n/ is used to make nouns from verbs.

complication    pollution    reduction    alteration    donation    admission

-ist [person] and -ism [activity or ideology]: used for people's politics, beliefs and ideologies, and sometimes their profession (compare with -er/-or professions above), e.g. Marxism, Buddhism, journalism, anarchist, physicist, terrorist.

-ist is also often used for people who play musical instruments, e.g. pianist, violinist, cellist.

-ness is used to make nouns from adjectives. Note what happens to adjectives that end in -y: goodness, readiness, forgetfulness, happiness, sadness, weakness.

B Adjective suffix

-able/-ible /əbl/ with verbs, means 'can be done'.

drinkable    washable    readable    recognizable    countable    forgivable

Examples with -ible: edible (can be eaten)    flexible (can be bent)

C Verbs

-ise (or -ize) makes verbs from adjectives, e.g. modernise, commercialise, industrialise.

Other suffixes that can help you recognise the word class

-ment: (nouns) excitement    enjoyment    replacement

-ity: (nouns) flexibility    productivity    scarcity

-hood: (abstract nouns especially family terms) childhood    motherhood

-ship: (abstract nouns especially status) friendship    partnership    membership

-ive: (adjectives) passive    productive    active

-al: (adjectives) brutal    legal (nouns) refusal    arrival

-ous: (adjectives) delicious    outrageous    furious

-ful: (adjectives) forgetful    hopeful    useful

-less: (adjectives) useless    harmless    cloudless

-ify: (verbs) beautify    purify    terrify

Note: the informal suffix -ish, which can be added to most common adjectives, ages and times to make them less precise, e.g. She's thirtyish. He has reddish hair. Come about eightish.

9 Prefixes

A

Prefixes are often used to give adjectives a negative meaning. The opposite of 'comfortable' is 'uncomfortable', the opposite of 'convenient' is 'inconvenient' and the opposite of 'similar' is 'dissimilar'. Other examples are 'unjust', 'inedible', 'disloyal'. Unfortunately, there is no easy way of knowing which prefix any adjective will use to form its opposite. When you learn a new adjective note down whether it has an opposite formed with a prefix and, if so, what it is.

Note:

- in- becomes im- before a root beginning with 'm' or 'p', e.g. immature, impatient, impartial, improbable. Similarly in- becomes ir- before a word beginning with 'r', and il- before a word beginning with 'l', e.g. irreplaceable, irreversible, illegal, illegible, illiterate.
- The prefix in- does not always have a negative meaning – often it gives the idea of inside or into, e.g. internal, import, insert, income.

B

Although it is mainly adjectives which are made negative by prefixes, un- and dis- can also form the opposites of verbs too, e.g. appear disappear. The prefix is is used here to reverse the action of the verb. Here are some more examples: disagree, disapprove, disbelieve, disconnect, discredit, dislike, dismount, disprove, disqualify, unbend, undo, undress, unfold, unload, unlock, unveil, unwrap, unzip.

C

Many other prefixes are used in English. Here is a list of prefixes which are useful in helping you to understand unfamiliar words. Some of these words are used with a hyphen. Check in a dictionary if you're not sure.

10 Roots

A

Many words in English are formed from a set of Latin roots with different prefixes and suffixes. Knowing the roots of such words may help you to remember or guess their meaning when you see them in context. These words are usually fairly formal. In their formation, they can perhaps be seen as the Latinate, formal, equivalent of phrasal verbs.

B

Here are some examples of the more common Latin roots, with some of the verbs derived from them. In each case an example sentence is given with the meaning of the verb in brackets at the end. You'll find some easier to understand than others.

You should respect your parents / the laws of a country. [look up to]
 The police suspected he was guilty but they had no proof. [had a feeling] postpone    turn away    inspect    go against    divert    reduce    put down

Abstract nouns

An abstract noun is one which is used to mean an idea, experience or quality rather than an object. Thus happiness, intention and shock are abstract nouns whereas, for example, pen, bed and trousers are not.

There are a number of suffixes which are used particularly frequently in the formation of abstract nouns. Some of the most common are -ment, -ion, -ness and -ity.

Note: -ment and -ion are usually used to make verbs into abstract nouns whereas -ness and -ity are added to adjectives; -ion sometimes becomes -tion, -sion, -ation or -ition.

Here are some examples of abstract nouns using those suffixes.

achievement	action	aggressiveness	absurdity
adjustment	collection	attractiveness	anonymity
amazement	combination	bitterness	complexity
discouragement	illusion	carelessness	curiosity improvement	imagination	consciousness	generosity investment	production	permissiveness	hostility replacement	recognition	tenderness	prosperity
retirement	reduction	ugliness	sensitivity

Less common suffixes associated with abstract nouns are -ship, -dom, -th and -hood.

Note: -ship and -hood are usually used in combination with other nouns whereas -th combines with an adjective to form an abstract noun and -dom can combine with either a noun or an adjective.

Here are some examples of abstract nouns using those suffixes.

apprenticeship	boredom	breadth	adulthood
companionship	freedom	depth	brotherhood
membership	kingdom	length	childhood ownership	martyrdom	strength	motherhood partnership	stardom	warmth	neighbourhood
relationship	wisdom	width	(wo)manhood

There are also a large number of abstract nouns which do not use any suffix at all. Here are some examples of these.

anger	belief	calm	chance faith	fear	humour	idea luck	principle	rage	reason
sense	sight	speed	thought

You will find more examples of the use of suffixes in Units 8 and 10 and of abstract nouns in Units 68 and 69.

Exercises

- 11.1 What is the abstract noun related to each of the following adjectives? All the nouns are formed in ways described on the opposite page although not all are listed opposite.

Example: affectionate affection

12 Compound adjectives

A

A compound adjective is an adjective which is made up of two parts and is usually written with a hyphen, e.g. well-dressed, never-ending and shocking-pink. Its meaning is usually clear from the words it combines. The second part of the compound adjective is frequently a present or past participle.

B

A large number of compound adjectives describe personal appearance. Here is a rather far-fetched description of a person starting from the head down.

Another set of compound adjectives describes a person's character. Here is a rather light-hearted description of a girl. The meanings are explained in brackets.

Melissa was absent-minded [forgetful], easy-going [relaxed], good-tempered [cheerful], warm-hearted [kind] and quick-witted [intelligent] if perhaps a little big-headed [proud of herself], two-faced [hypocritical], self-centred [egotistical] and stuck-up [snobbish (colloquial)] at times.

D

Another special group of compound adjectives are those where the second part is a preposition. Some of these adjectives are listed below with a typical noun.

an all-out strike [total]      a burnt-out car [nothing left in it after a fire]
a broken-down bus [it won't work]      a built-up area [lots of buildings in it] a hard-up student [poor]      cast-off clothes [no longer wanted by the owner] worn-out shoes [can't be worn any more; of people – exhausted]

long-distance	long-standing	off-peak	part-time record-breaking	remote-controlled	second-class	so-called sugar-free	time-consuming	top-secret	world-famous

F

You can vary the compound adjectives listed by changing one part of the adjective. For example, curly-haired, long-haired, red-haired and straight-haired; first-hand (knowledge), first-class (ticket) and first-born (child).

13 Compound nouns – combinations of two nouns

A compound noun is a fixed expression which is made up of more than one word and functions as a noun. Such expressions are frequently combinations of two nouns, e.g. address book, human being, science fiction. A number of compound nouns are related to phrasal verbs and these are dealt with in Unit 14.

Compound nouns may be written as two words, e.g. tin opener, bank account, or they may be written with a hyphen instead of a space between the words, e.g. pen-name, baby-sitter. Some expressions are occasionally written with a hyphen and occasionally as two separate words. For instance, both letter box and letter-box are correct. Sometimes they may be written as one word, e.g. earring.

Compound nouns may be countable, uncountable or only used in either the singular or the plural. There are examples of each of these types below. Check that you understand the meanings of each of the expressions listed. If you understand both elements of the expression, the meaning will usually be clear. If the meaning is not fairly obvious, then it is provided below.

Usually the main stress is on the first part of the compound but sometimes it is on the second part. The word which contains the main stress is underlined in the compound nouns below. Here are some examples of common countable compound nouns.

alarm clock	assembly line	blood donor	book token
burglar alarm	contact lens	credit card	handcuffs
heart attack	package holiday	pedestrian crossing	shoe horn
tea -bag	windscreen	windscreen wiper	youth hostel

Here are some examples of common uncountable compound nouns. These are never used with an article.

data- processing	family planning	food poisoning	pocket money
income tax	junk food	mail order	hay fever (allergy to pollen)

Here are some examples of common compound nouns used only in the singular.

arms race (countries wanting most powerful weapons)	death penalty
generation gap	labour force
mother -tongue	sound barrier
greenhouse effect	welfare state
brain drain (highly educated people leaving country to work abroad)

Here are some examples of common compound nouns used only in the plural.

grass roots	luxury goods	human rights	kitchen scissors
race relations	road works	sunglasses	traffic lights

16 Words with interesting origins – from other languages

A

English has taken over words from most of the other languages with which it has had contact. It has taken many expressions from the ancient languages, Latin and Greek, and these borrowings usually have academic or literary associations. From French, English has taken lots of words to do with cooking, the arts, and a more sophisticated lifestyle in general. From Italian come words connected with music and the plastic arts. German expressions in English have been coined either by tourists bringing back words for new things they saw or by philosophers or historians describing German concepts or experiences. The borrowings from other languages usually relate to things which English speakers experienced for the first time abroad.

B

There are borrowings from a wide range of languages. For example, from Japanese, tycoon, karate, origami, judo, futon and bonsai. From Arabic, mattress, ciphers, alcove, carafe, algebra, harem, mufti and yashmak. From Turkish, yoghurt, jackal, kiosk, bosh [nonsense (colloquial)], tulip and caftan; from Farsi, caravan, shawl, taffeta, bazaar and sherbet, and from Eskimo, kayak, igloo and anorak.

C

The map of Europe below shows the places of origin of some English words and expressions borrowed from some other European languages. Use a dictionary to check the meanings of any words you are not sure about.

Horses go clip-clop on the road.

sp- at the beginning of a word can have an association with water or other liquids or powders, e.g. splash [cause a liquid to fly about in drops], spit [send liquid out from the mouth], splutter [make a series of spitting sounds], spray [liquid sent through the air in tiny drops either by the wind or some instrument], sprinkle [throw a shower of something onto a surface], spurt [come out in a sudden burst].

ash- at the end of a word can suggest something fast and violent, e.g. smash [break violently into small pieces], dash [move or be moved violently], crash [strike suddenly violently and noisily], bash [strike heavily so as to break or injure], gash [a long deep cut or wound].

18 Words commonly mispronounced

English spelling is notoriously unphonetic. This page looks at some of the words which cause most pronunciation difficulties for learners of English. The phonetic transcription is provided for some of the words below. If you are not sure of the pronunciation of any of the other words, check in the index at the back of the book.

A

To master English pronunciation you need to learn the 20 phonetic symbols for English vowel sounds. It is not really necessary to learn the consonant symbols as it is usually not difficult to know how consonants should be pronounced. Vowels are important because the vowel letters can be pronounced in many different ways.

a	about /ə/	wander /ɒ/	last /ɑː/	late /eɪ/
i	alive /aɪ/	give /ɪ/
u	put /ʊ/	cut /ʌ/	cupid /juː/
ie	fiend /iː/	friend /e/	science /aɪə/
ei	rein /eɪ/	receive /iː/	reinforce /iːrɪ/
e	met /e/	meter /iː/	/ə/
o	sorry /ɒ/	go /əʊ/	love /ʌ/	to /uː/
ea	head /e/	team /iː/	react /iːæ/
ou	our /aʊ/	route /uː/	would /ʊ/
oo	cool /uː/	cook /ʊ/	coopt /əʊp/

B

Silent letters can be a problem. The letters below in bold are silent in the following words:

p	psychic /saɪkɪk/	psychiatry	pneumatic	receipt	pseudonym	psychology
b	comb /kəʊm/	dumb	numb	tomb	climb	womb	lamb
b	doubt /daʊt/	subtle	debt	debtor
l	could /kʊd/	should	calm	half	talk	palm	walk	salmon	chalk
h	honour /ɒnə/	honourable	honest	hour	hourly	heir	heirress
t	whistle /wɪsəl/	castle	listen	fasten	soften	Christmas
k	knee /niː/	knife	know	knob	knowledge	knot	knit
r	card /kɑːd/	park	farm	burn	work	storm	tart
r	(unless followed by a vowel)	mother /mʌðə/	sister	teacher	water

In a number of two-syllable words in English, the stress is on the first syllable of the word when it is a noun and the second syllable if it is a verb, e.g. 'Wool is a major Scottish export.' 'Scotland exports a lot of wool.' Here are some other words like this.

conduct	conflict	contest	decrease	suspect desert	import	increase	insult	transfer permit	present	progress	protest	transport record	reject	reprint	subject	upset

D

Here are a number of other words which are often mispronounced.

apostrophe /ə'pɒstrəfi/	catastrophe /kə'tæstrəfi/	cupboard /'kʌbəd/
recipe /'resɪpi/	hiccough /'hɪkʌp/	sword /sɔːd/
plough /plau/	muscle /'mʌsəl/	interesting /'ɪnrəstɪŋ/

Homophones are words which are pronounced in the same way but are spelt differently, e.g. bow as in 'He took a bow' and bough, 'the bough of a tree'.

B Here are some more examples of homographs.

- I live in the north of England. /lɪv/

Follow-up: If you can, get hold of a news report in English. Underline all the time connectors and see if there are any which you can add to those on the left-hand page. If there are, write a whole sentence in your notebook showing how the connector is used.

2 | Condition

As well as if, there are a number of other words and phrases for expressing condition.

1 You can't come in unless you have a ticket.

2 You can borrow the bike on condition that you return it by five o'clock.

3 In case of fire, dial 999. [usually seen on notices (see Unit 96); it means 'when there is a fire'; don't confuse with 'take your mac in case it rains'; not it might rain.]

4 You can stay, as long as you don't mind sleeping on the sofa. [less formal than so long as and less formal and not so strong as on condition that]

Providing (that) or provided (that) can also be used in examples 2 and 4. They are less formal and not so strong as on condition that but stronger and more restricting than as long as, e.g. Provided/Providing you don't mind cats, you can stay with us. Note the use of supposing and what if (usually in spoken language) for possible situations in the future. What if is more direct, e.g. Supposing/What if he doesn't turn up; what shall we do then?

B

Conditions with -ever

However you do it, it will cost a lot of money.
You'll get to the railway station, whichever bus you take.
Whoever wins the General Election, nothing will really change.
That box is so big it will be in the way wherever you leave it.

These four sentences can also be expressed using no matter.

No matter how you do it, it will cost a lot of money.
You'll get to the railway station, no matter which bus you take.

C

Some nouns which express condition

Certain conditions must be met before the Peace Talks can begin.
A good standard of English is a prerequisite for studying at a British University.
[absolutely necessary; very formal word]
What are the entry requirements for doing a diploma in Management at your college?
[official conditions]
I would not move to London under any circumstances. It's awful!

Notice in the examples in A and B how the present tense is used in the clause with the conditional word or phrase. Don't say: Take your umbrella in case it will rain.

Exercises

Look at the picture of an accident, on the right. Here are several ways of talking about it.

Results

He did no work. As a result / As a consequence / Consequently, he failed his exams.

The result/consequence of all these changes is that no-one is happy any more. [The examples with consequence/consequently sound more formal than result]

His remarks resulted in everyone getting angry. [as a verb + in]

The events had an outcome that no-one could have predicted. [result of a process or events, or of meetings, discussions, etc.]

The upshot of all these problems was that we had to start again. [less formal than outcome]

Note also these collocating phrases for contrast.

When it comes to politics, Jim and Ann are poles apart.

25 Text-referring words

Text-referring words are ones that pick up their content from the surrounding text. This sentence in isolation does not mean much:

We decided to look at the problem again and try to find a solution.

What problem? We need to refer to some other sentence or to the context to find out.

Problem and solution help organise the argument of the text, but they do not tell us the topic of the text. They refer to something somewhere else.

Here are some examples. What the word in bold refers to is underlined.

Pollution is increasing. The problem is getting worse each day.

Should taxes be raised or lowered? This was the biggest issue in the election. [topic causing great argument and controversy]

Whether the war could have been avoided is a question that continues to interest historians.

Let's discuss crime. It's always an interesting topic. [subject to argue about or discuss, e.g. in a debate or in an essay]

Punishment is only one aspect of crime. [part of the topic]

Problem-solution words

Text-referring words are often associated with common patterns in text, such as the 'problem-solution' type of text. Note the words in bold connected with problems and solutions here and try to learn them as a family.

The situation in our cities with regard to traffic is going from bad to worse. Congestion is a daily feature of urban life. The problem is now beginning to affect our national economies. Unless a new approach is found to controlling the number of cars, we will never find a solution to the dilemma.

In this dialogue, two politicians are arguing on the radio. Note how the words in bold refer to parts of the argument.

A: Your claim that we are doing nothing to invest in industry is false. We invested £10 billion last year. You have ignored this fact.

B: But the investment has all gone to service industries. The real point is that we need to invest in manufacturing.

A: That argument is out of date in a modern technological society. Our position has always been that we should encourage technology.

B: But that view will not help to reduce unemployment.

A: Rubbish. Utter rubbish.

Here are some more words associated with problem-solution texts. They are grouped in families associated with the key-words in bold. The prepositions which are normally used with these words are given in brackets.

situation: state of affairs position (with regard to)

problem: difficulty [more formal] crisis matter response: reaction (to) attitude (to) solution: answer (to) resolution (to) key (to) way out (of)

evaluation [of the solution]: assessment judgement

love/romance:	lover	steady boy/girlfriend	ex-*
marriage:	wife/husband/partner		ex-*

* ex- can be used with or without (informally) another word: She's my ex. (girlfriend, etc.)

Workmate is usual in non-professional contexts; colleague is more common among professional people.

Fiancé/ée can still be used for someone you are engaged to, but a lot of people feel it is dated nowadays. You will sometimes see husband-/wife-to-be in journalistic style.

45 Towns

Look at this description of Cork, one of Ireland's main towns. Underline any words or phrases that might be useful for describing your own or any other town.

Cork city is the major metropolis of the south; indeed with a population of about 135,000 it is the second largest city in the Republic. The main business and shopping centre of the town lies on the island created by two channels of the River Lee, with most places within walking distance of the centre. (The buses tend to be overcrowded and the one-way traffic system is fiendishly complicated.) In the hilly area of the city is the famous Shandon Steeple, the bell-tower of St Anne's Church, built on the site of a church destroyed when the city was besieged by the Duke of Marlborough. Back across the River Lee lies the city's cathedral, an imposing 19th century building in the French Gothic style. Cork has two markets. Neither caters specifically for tourists but those who enjoy the atmosphere of a real working market will appreciate their charm. The Crawford Art Gallery is well worth a visit. It regularly mounts adventurous exhibitions by contemporary artists. The fashionable residential districts of Cork city overlook the harbour. There are other residential areas on the outskirts.

Towns can be convenient places to live in because they have many facilities. Check with a teacher or a dictionary if you are not sure what anything means.

Sports: swimming pool sports centre golf course tennis courts football pitch skating rink

Cultural: theatre opera house concert hall radio station art gallery

Educational: school college university library evening classes museum

Catering and night-life: restaurant cafe nightclub take-away hotel

Transport: bus service taxi rank car hire agency car park parking meters

Other: health centre law courts registry office citizens' advice bureau job centre bottle bank department store chemist's estate agent garden centre police station Town or City Hall suburbs housing estate industrial estate pedestrian precinct

Towns also have their own special problems. Here are some to be found in London now.

Traffic jams: every day, particularly in the rush-hour, the streets get so packed with traffic that travel is very slow or even comes to a standstill. This is particularly stressful for commuters, people who travel to work in the town

Slums: certain parts of the city which are poor and in a very bad condition

Vandalism: pointless destruction of other people's property

Overcrowding: too many people live in too small a place

Pollution: the air and the water are no longer as pure as they were

Crime: see Unit 55

Here are some useful adjectives for describing towns.

picturesque historic spacious elegant magnificent atmospheric quaint lively hectic deserted (e.g. at night) bustling crowded

5 | Numbers and shapes

Anyone who works with any branch of science or technology needs to be able to talk about figures. Notice how the following are said in English.

28% twenty-eight per cent

10 m × 12 m ten metres by twelve metres

10.3 ten point three

$1\frac{2}{3}$  one and two thirds

$\frac{7}{9}$  four ninths

$\frac{9}{13}$  nine thirteenths or nine over thirteen

$4^2$  four squared

$7^3$  seven cubed

$32^\circ$  C or F thirty-two degrees centigrade/celsius or fahrenheit

1,623,457 one million, six hundred and twenty-three thousand, four hundred and fifty-seven

B

All scientists and technologists also need to be able to talk about shapes. Note the names of the shapes below.

Two-dimensional shapes

A rectangle has four right angles.

A circle is cut in half by its diameter. Its two halves can be called semi-circles.

The radius of a circle is the distance from its centre to the circumference.

Three-dimensional shapes

The two halves of a sphere can be called hemispheres.

C

Here are the four basic processes of arithmetic.

+ addition      - subtraction      × multiplication      ÷ division

Notice how these formulae would be read aloud.

$2x+3y-z = \frac{3z}{4x}$  Two x plus three y minus z equals three z divided by four x. or Three z over four x.

$6 \times 7 = 42$  Six times seven is forty two. or Six sevens are forty two.

56 Money – buying, selling and paying

A

Personal finance

Sometimes in a shop they ask you: 'How do you want to pay?'
You can answer: 'Cash / By cheque / By credit card.'

In a bank you usually have a current account, which is one where you pay in your salary and then withdraw money to pay your everyday bills. The bank sends you a regular bank statement telling you how much money is in your account. You may also have a savings account where you deposit any extra money that you have and only take money out when you want to spend it on something special. You usually try to avoid having an overdraft or you end up paying a lot of interest. If your account is overdrawn, you can be said to be in the red (as opposed to in the black or in credit).

Sometimes the bank may lend you money – this is called a bank loan. If the bank (or building society) lends you money to buy a house, that money is called a mortgage.

When you buy (or, more formally, purchase) something in a shop, you usually pay for it outright but sometimes you buy on credit. Sometimes you may be offered a discount or a reduction on something you buy at a shop. This means that you get, say, £10 off perhaps because you are a student. You are often offered a discount if you buy in bulk. It is not usual to haggle about prices in a British shop, as it is in, say, a Turkish market. If you want to return something which you have bought to a shop, you may be given a refund, i.e. your money will be returned, provided you have a receipt.

The money that you pay for services, e.g. to a school or a lawyer, is usually called a fee or fees; the money paid for a journey is a fare.

If you buy something that you feel was very good value, it's a bargain. If you feel that it is definitely not worth what you paid for it, then you can call it a rip-off (very colloquial).

B

Public finance

The government collects money from citizens through taxes. Income tax is the tax collected on wages and salaries. Inheritance tax is collected on what people inherit from others. Customs or excise duties have to be paid on goods imported from other countries. VAT or value added tax is a tax paid on most goods and services when they are bought or purchased. Companies pay corporation tax on their profits. If you pay too much tax, you should be given some money back, a tax rebate.

The government also sometimes pays out money to people in need, e.g. unemployment benefit (also known informally as the dole) disability allowances and student grants (to help pay for studying). Recipients draw a pension / unemployment benefit or are on the dole or on social security.

Every country has its own special currency. Every day the rates of exchange are published and you can discover, for example, how many dollars there are currently to the pound sterling.

A company may sell shares to members of the public who are then said to have invested in that company. They should be paid a regular dividend on their investment, depending on the profit or loss made by the company.

69 Like, dislike and desire

Words and expressions relating to liking

I quite liked Tom when we first met. However, although lots of my friends said they found him attractive, I didn't fancy him at all. He invited me out and I must admit that I was more tempted by his sports car than by him at first. However, I really enjoyed spending time with him. He fascinated me with his stories of his travels around the world and something mysterious about his past also attracted me. Moreover, we were both very keen on sailing. Soon I realised I had fallen in love with him. His sense of humour really appealed to me and I was also captivated by his gift for poetry. Now, three years later I absolutely adore him and I cannot understand why I didn't fall for him the moment we first set eyes on each other. He is a very caring person, fond of animals and small children. He is always affectionate and loving towards me and passionate about the causes he believes in and the people he cares for. I hope we shall always worship each other as much and be as devoted to our life together as we are now.

B

Words and expressions relating to desiring

Desire is used either as a formal verb to express a sexual wish for someone or else it is quite a formal word for wish.

He desired her the moment he saw her.

I have a strong desire to see the Himalayas before I die.

Looking forward to means thinking about something in the future with pleasant anticipation. The opposite of look forward to is dread.

I am looking forward to going to Fiji but I'm dreading the flight.

Note: 'to' is a preposition here and not part of the infinitive and is followed by a noun or an -ing form.

Long for means to wish for something very much.

As soon as I get back from one holiday, I'm longing for the next.

Yearn for is a more poetic way of saying long for.

He will never stop yearning for his country although he knows he can never return.

C

Words and expressions relating to disliking.

Loathe, detest, hate, cannot stand and cannot bear are all stronger ways of saying dislike and they are all followed by a noun or an -ing form.

I loathe / detest / hate / cannot stand / cannot bear bad-mannered people.

Repel, revolt and disgust are all strong words used to describe the effect which something detested has on the person affected.

His paintings disgust me. I was revolted by the way he spoke. His behaviour repels me.

D

Ways of addressing loved ones

dearest    sweetheart    darling    love    dear    pet

Pet is used mainly to children. Note that the last three words in the list are not confined to use with people who are really loved. It is not uncommon for a London bus conductor, for example, to address any girl or woman as 'love'. (His Glasgow equivalent calls his female passengers 'hen'.) It's best for you, however, to keep such words for people you have a close relationship with!

70 Speaking

The verbs in the table below describe how loudly or quietly a person is speaking and also, often, indicate mood. These verbs are all followed by clauses beginning with 'that'.

verb	loudness	most likely mood whisper	soft	–
murmur	soft	romantic or complaining mumble	soft (and unclear)	nervous or insecure
mutter	soft	irritated
shout	loud	angry or excited scream	loud (usually without words)	frightened or excited
shriek	loud (and shrill)	frightened or amused
stutter, stammer	neutral	nervous or excited

B The following verbs all indicate something about how the speaker feels. What they usually indicate is given in the feeling column. (Note: s.b. = somebody s.t. = something)

verb	patterns	feeling	verb	patterns	feeling boast	to s.b. about s.t. / that...	proud of oneself	complain	to s.b. about s.t. / that...	displeased insist	on s.t. / that...	determined	maintain	that...	confident object	that... / to + ing	unhappy	confess	that... / to + ing	repentant threaten	that... / to do s.t.	aggressive	urge	s.b. to do s.t.	encouraging argue	with s.b. about s.t. / that...	not in agreement	beg	s.b. to do s.t./ for s.t.	desperate groan	that...	despair, pain	grumble	about s.t./	displeased

C It is also possible to give an idea of the way someone speaks by using a speaking verb, plus an adverb. For example, 'He said proudly'. 'She spoke angrily'. This is most common in written style.

Some useful adverbs describing the way someone is feeling while they are speaking.

If someone feels angry: angrily crossly furiously bitterly

If someone feels unhappy: unhappily gloomily miserably uneasily sadly

If someone feels happy: happily cheerfully gladly hopefully eagerly

If someone feels worried: anxiously nervously desperately hopelessly

Other useful adverbs are boldly, excitedly, gratefully, impatiently, passionately, reluctantly, shyly, sincerely.

71 The six senses

A

Our basic five senses are sight, hearing, taste, touch and smell. What is sometimes referred to as a 'sixth sense' is a power to be aware of things independently of the five physical senses, a kind of supernatural sense. The five basic verbs referring to the senses are modified by an adjective rather than an adverb.

He looks dreadful.      The trip sounds marvellous.      The cake tastes good.
It felt strange.      The soup smelt delicious.

Sight

Look at the verbs of seeing in the text below.

Yesterday I glanced out of the window and noticed a man observing a house opposite through a telescope. I thought I glimpsed a woman inside the house. Then I saw someone else peering into the window of the same house. I gazed at them wondering what they were doing. Suddenly the first man stopped staring through his telescope. He went and hit the other one on the head with the telescope and I realised that I had witnessed a crime.

Hearing

The following scale relates to the sense of hearing and how loud things are.

noiseless → silent → quiet → noisy → loud → deafening

Taste

Some different tastes with an example of a typical food. (See also Unit 43.)

sweet (honey)    salty (crisps)    bitter (strong coffee)    sour (vinegar)    spicy (Indian food)

If you say something tastes hot it may mean spicy rather than not cold. Food can be tasty, but tasteful is used to refer to furnishings, architecture or a style of dressing or behaviour. The opposite of both is tasteless.

Touch

Some good verbs for describing different ways of touching.

She nervously fingered her collar.      He stroked the cat and patted the dog.
She tapped him on the shoulder.      He grasped my hand and we ran.
She grabbed her bag and ran.      It's rude to snatch.      Press the button.
Please handle the goods with great care.
The secretaries complained that their boss was always pawing them.

Smell

These adjectives describe how something smells.

stinking    evil-smelling    smelly    aromatic    scented fragrant    sweet-smelling    perfumed

G

Sixth sense

Different phenomena which a person with sixth sense may experience:

telepathy    ghosts    UFOs    premonitions    intuition    déjà vu

74 Idioms and fixed expressions – general

Idioms are fixed expressions with meanings that are usually not clear or obvious. The individual words often give you no help in deciding the meaning. The expression to feel under the weather, which means 'to feel unwell' is a typical idiom. The words do not tell us what it means, but the context usually helps.

A Tips for dealing with idioms

Think of idioms as being just like single words; always record the whole phrase in your notebook, along with information on grammar and collocation.

This tin-opener has seen better days. [it is rather old and broken down; usually of things, always perfect tense form]

Idioms are usually rather informal and include an element of personal comment on the situation. They are sometimes humorous or ironic. As with any informal 'commenting' single word, be careful how you use them. Never use them just to sound 'fluent' or 'good at English'. In a formal situation with a person you do not know, don't say,

'How do you do, Mrs Watson. Do take the weight off your feet.' [sit down].
Instead say 'Do sit down' or 'Have a seat'.

Idioms can be grouped in a variety of ways. Use whichever way you find most useful to help you remember them. Here are some possible types of grouping.

Grammatical

get the wrong end of the stick [misunderstand]	}	verb + object pull a fast one [trick/deceive somebody] poke your nose in(to) [interfere] be over the moon [extremely happy/elated]	}	verb + preposition phrase feel down in the dumps [depressed/low] be in the red [have a negative bank balance]

By meaning e.g. idioms describing people's character/intellect

He's as daft as a brush. [very stupid/silly]
He takes the biscuit. [is the extreme / the worst of all]
You're a pain in the neck. [a nuisance / difficult person]

By verb or other key word e.g. idioms with make

I don't see why you have to make a meal out of everything.
[exaggerate the importance of everything]
I think we should make a move. It's gone ten o'clock. [go/leave]
Most politicians are on the make. I don't trust any of them.
[wanting money/power for oneself]

B Grammar of idioms

It is important when using idioms to know just how flexible their grammar is. Some are more fixed than others. For instance, barking up the wrong tree [be mistaken] is always used in continuous, not simple form, e.g. I think you're barking up the wrong tree.

A good dictionary may help but it is best to observe the grammar in real examples.

Note how Units 76–91 group idioms in different ways.

Exercises

74.1 Complete the idioms in these sentences with one of the key words given, as in the example. If you are not sure, try looking up the key word in a good dictionary.

clanger    shot    ocean    plate    block    handle    pie

- 1 All the promises these politicians make! It's just pie in the sky. (big promises that will never materialise)
- 2 The small amount of money donated is just a drop in the ..... compared with the vast sum we need. (tiny contribution compared with what is needed)
- 3 You really dropped a ..... when you criticised the Americans last night; that man opposite you was from New York! (said something inappropriate/embarrassing)
- 4 I can't do that job as well; I've got enough on my ..... as it is. (have more than enough work)
- 5 When I told her she just flew off the ..... and shouted at me. (lost her temper)
- 6 His father was a gambler too. He's a real chip off the old ..... (just like one's parents/grandparents)
- 7 I wasn't really sure; I guessed it; it was just a ..... in the dark. (a wild guess)

74.2 Use a good general dictionary or a dictionary of idioms to see if it can help you decide which version of these sentences is in the normal grammatical form for the idiom concerned, as in the example. Check the meaning too, if you are not sure.

Example: You bark / are barking up the wrong tree if you think I did it. (see B opposite)

- 1 Holland is springing / springs to mind as the best place to go for a cycling holiday; it's very flat.
- 2 That remark is flying / flies in the face of everything you've ever said before on the subject.
- 3 He was innocent after all. It just goes / is just going to show that you shouldn't believe what you read in the papers.
- 4 You sit / 're sitting pretty! Look at you, an easy job, a fantastic salary, a free car!
- 5 His attitude is leaving / leaves a lot to be desired. I do wish he would try to improve a little.

74.3 How would you organise this selection of idioms into different groups? Use some of the ways suggested on the opposite page, plus any other ways you can think of.

be in a fix    child's play    rough and ready    be up to it    hold your tongue be out of sorts    hold your horses    a fool's errand    odds and ends stay mum    give or take

74.4 Without using a dictionary, try to guess the meaning of these idioms from the context.

- 1 It's midnight. Time to hit the sack.
- 2 This is just kid's stuff. I want something challenging!
- 3 He was down and out for two years, but then he got a job and found a home for himself.

75 Everyday expressions

Everyday spoken language is full of fixed expressions that are not necessarily difficult to understand (their meaning may be quite 'transparent') but which have a fixed form which does not change. These have to be learnt as whole expressions. These expressions are often hard to find in dictionaries, so listen out for them.

A Conversation-building expressions

These are some common expressions that help to modify or organise what we are saying. There are many more expressions like these. (See also Unit 100.)

expression	→	meaning/function
As I was saying, I haven't seen her for years.	→	takes the conversation back to an earlier point
As I/you say, we'll have to get there early to get a seat.	→	repeats and confirms something someone has already said
Talking of skiing, whatever happened to Bill Jakes?	→	starting a new topic but linking it to the present one
If you ask me, she's heading for trouble.	→	if you want my opinion (even if no-one has asked for it)
That reminds me, I haven't rung George yet.	→	something in the conversation reminds you of something important
Come to think of it, did he give me his number after all? I think he may have forgotten.	→	something in the conversation makes you realise there may be a problem/query about something

B Key words

Some everyday expressions can be grouped around key words. This and that, for example, occur in several expressions:

Common expressions for modifying statements

76 Similes – as...as... / like...

A

As...as... similes are easy to understand. If you see the phrase as dead as a doornail, you don't need to know what a doornail is, simply that the whole phrase means 'totally dead'. But, remember, fixed similes are not 'neutral'; they are usually informal/colloquial and often humorous. So, use them with care, and keep them generally as part of your receptive vocabulary.

Creating a picture in your mind can often help you remember the simile:

as blind as a bat    as thin as a rake    as strong as an ox    as quiet as a mouse

Some can be remembered as pairs of opposites.

as heavy as lead ≠ as light as a feather    as drunk as a lord ≠ as sober as a judge as black as night ≠ as white as snow

Some can be remembered by sound patterns.

As brown as a berry    as good as gold    as cool as a cucumber

Some other useful as...as... phrases.

The bed was as hard as iron and I couldn't sleep.
I'll give this plant some water. The soil's as dry as a bone.
He's as mad as a hatter. He crossed the Atlantic in a bathtub.
She told the teacher, as bold as brass, that his lessons were boring.
You'll have to speak up; he's as deaf as a post.
Don't worry. Using the computer's as easy as falling off a log.
She knew the answer as quick as a flash.
When I told him, his face went as red as a beetroot.

Sometimes the second part can change the meaning of the first.

The Princess's skin was as white as snow. [beautifully white]
When he saw it, his face went as white as a sheet. [pale with fear/horror]
The fish was bad and I was as sick as a dog. [vomiting]
She ran off with my money; I felt as sick as a parrot. [bad feeling of disillusionment/frustration]

B

Like...

My plan worked like a dream, and the problem was soon solved.
Be careful the boss doesn't see you; she has eyes like a hawk.
No wonder he's fat. He eats like a horse and drinks like a fish.
Did you sleep well? Yes, thanks, like a log.
Sorry, I forgot to ring him again. I've got a head like a sieve!
The boss is like a bear with a sore head today. [in a very bad temper]
She goes around like a bull in a china shop. [behaving in a very clumsy, insensitive way] Criticising the government in his presence is like a red rag to a bull. [certain to make him very angry]

- someone with a very bad memory?

Tip: You can always make a simile using as...as can be, for example, I need a drink; I'm as thirsty as can be!

77 Binomials

Binomials are expressions (often idiomatic) where two words are joined by a conjunction (usually 'and'). The order of the words is usually fixed. It is best to use them only in informal situations, with one or two exceptions.

odds and ends: small, unimportant things, e.g. Let's get the main things packed; we can do the odds and ends later.

give and take: a spirit of compromise, e.g. Every relationship needs a bit of give and take to be successful.

You can often tell something is a binomial because of the sound pattern.

Tears are part and parcel of growing up. [part of / belong to]

The boss was ranting and raving at us. [shouting / very angry]

The old cottage has gone to rack and ruin. [ruined/decayed]

He's so prim and proper at work. [rather formal and fussy]

The hotel was a bit rough and ready. [poor standard]

She has to wine and dine important clients. [entertain]

B

Other times, the clue is that the words are near-synonyms.

You can pick and choose; it's up to you. [have a wide choice]

My English is progressing in leaps and bounds. [big jumps]

It's nice to have some peace and quiet. [peace/calm]

The doctor recommended some rest and recreation. [relaxation]

First and foremost, you must work hard. [first / most importantly]

Many grammar words combine to form binomials.

There are cafés here and there. [scattered round]

We've had meetings on and off. [occasionally]

I've been running back and forth all day. [to and from somewhere]

To and fro can be used just like back and forth.

He is unemployed and down and out. [without a home or money]

She's better now, and out and about again. [going out]

She ran up and down the street. [in both directions]

Your language probably has many binomials. Make sure those which look similar in English have the same word order as your language. These four are very neutral binomials and can be used in formal or informal situations. Try translating them.

A black and white film, please. Ladies and gentlemen, your attention, please!

She ran back and forth. There was hot and cold water in every room.

E

Binomials linked by words other than and.

You've got your sweater on back to front. [the wrong way]

He won't help her; she'll have to sink or swim. [survive or fail]

Slowly but surely, I realised the boat was sinking. [gradually]

Sooner or later, you'll learn your lesson. [some time/day]

She didn't want to be just friends; it had to be all or nothing.

Well I'm sorry, that's all I can offer you; take it or leave it.

It's about the same distance as from here to Dublin, give or take a few miles. [perhaps a mile or two more, or a mile or two less]

Exercises

77.1 Here are some jumbled binomials (some are from the left-hand page and some are new). Using similarities in sound, join them with and. Then check opposite or in a dictionary that you have the word order right, and that you know the meaning.

prim    dine    high    ruin    rough    dry rack    ready    proper    sound    safe    wine

Now use them to fill the gaps in these sentences.

- I was left ..... and ....., with no-one to help me.
- The room's a bit ..... and ....., but you're welcome to stay as long as you like.
- I'm glad you're ..... and ..... after such a dangerous journey.
- My hosts ..... and ..... me at the best restaurants.
- Our old house in the country has just gone to ..... and .....; nobody looks after it now.
- The secretary is always so terribly ..... and .....; the whole atmosphere always seems so very formal.

(law)          now          hit          clean          pick          sick          leaps	and	money    tidy    drop          tired    soon    snow          pay    bounds    terrible          clocks    after    whisper          (order)    then    dogs          scratch    heart    choose          flowers    miss    chase
--	-----	---

Now use them to make informal sentences by re-writing these.

- There are lots of courses. You can make your own selection.
- The flat looks all neat and spotless now for our visitors.
- I have had enough of traffic jams. I'm going to start using the train.
- Finding the right people was rather difficult; sometimes we succeeded, sometimes we failed.
- My knowledge of English has progressed rapidly since I've been using this book.
- The new Prime Minister promised that efficient policing would be the most important priority.
- I've seen her occasionally, taking her dog for a walk.

77.3 These binomials do not have and in the middle. What do they have? Check opposite or in a dictionary if you are not sure.

- |                      |                    |                     |
|----------------------|--------------------|---------------------|
| 1 Sooner ..... later | 3 Back ..... front | 5 Slowly.....surely |
| 2 All ..... nothing  | 4 Sink ..... swim  | 6 Make ..... break  |

84 Proverbs

Speakers tend to use proverbs to comment on a situation, often at the end of a true story someone has told, or in response to some event. As with all idiomatic expressions, they are useful and enjoyable to know and understand, but should be used with care.

A

Warnings/advice/morals – do's and don'ts

proverb		paraphrase
Don't count your chickens before they're hatched.	→	Don't anticipate the future too much.
Don't put all your eggs in one basket.	→	Don't invest all your efforts or attention in just one thing.
Never judge a book by its cover.	→	Don't judge people/things by their outward appearance.
Never look a gift horse in the mouth.	→	Never refuse good fortune when it is there in front of you.
Take care of the pence and the pounds will take care of themselves.	→	Take care of small sums of money and they will become large sums.

B

Key elements

Proverbs can also be grouped by some key elements, for example, animals and birds.

When the cat's away, the mice will play. [people will take advantage of someone else's absence to behave more freely]

You can lead a horse to water but you can't make it drink. [you can try to persuade someone, but you can't force them]

One swallow doesn't make a summer. [one positive sign does not mean all will be well]

C

Visualising

As with learning all vocabulary, visualising some element often helps.

There's no smoke without fire. [rumours are usually based on some degree of truth]

Too many cooks spoil the broth. [too many people interfering is a bad way of doing things]

People who live in glass houses shouldn't throw stones. [don't criticise others' faults if you suffer from them yourself]

Many hands make light work. [a lot of people helping makes a job easier]

84.1 Find proverbs on the left-hand page which would be suitable for these situations.

Example: Someone says they have just been offered a free two-week holiday, but are hesitating whether to take up the offer. Never look a gift-horse in the mouth.

- 1 Someone thanks you and your friends for helping to load heavy boxes into a van.
- 2 Someone says they can't be bothered applying to different universities and will just apply to one.
- 3 Three different people have made different arrangements for the same meeting, and so everyone comes at different times and the result is total confusion.

84.2 Some proverbs are similar in meaning to one another. Which proverbs on the left go with which on the right, and what do they have in common in terms of meaning?

- |  |   |
|--|---|
| 1 A bird in the hand is worth two in the bush.       | Never judge a book by its cover.                  |
| 2 Don't count your chickens before they are hatched. | Familiarity breeds contempt.                      |
| 3 All that glitters is not gold.                     | Never look a gift-horse in the mouth.             |
| 4 Absence makes the heart grow fonder.               | Don't cross your bridges before you come to them. |

84.3 In spoken language, people often refer to proverbs by only saying half of them and leaving the rest for the listener to 'fill in'. Complete the proverbs in these dialogues.

- 1 A: 'Joel's always criticising people who are selfish, yet he's terribly selfish himself.
B: Yes, well, people who live in glass houses...
C: Exactly.
- 2 A: The people in the office have been playing computer games all day since the boss fell ill.
B: Well, you know what they say: when the cat's away...
A: Right, and they're certainly doing that.
- 3 A: I didn't believe those rumours about Nick and Gill, but apparently they are seeing each other.
B: You shouldn't be so naive, you know what they say, no smoke..., eh?
A: Mm, I suppose you're right.
- 4 A: Amazing, he's made a fortune from just one little shop!
B: Well, I think it's a case of take care of the pence...
A: Sure, he's always been very careful with his money.

Follow-up: Try translating some proverbs from your language, word for word into English, and then, if you can, ask a native speaker if they recognise any English proverb as having the same or similar meaning.

85 Expressions with do and make

The next seven units deal with phrasal verbs and other expressions based on common verbs. Phrasal verbs are basic verbs which can combine with different prepositions (or particles) to make verbs with completely new – and often unguessable – meanings. Phrasal verbs are used more in speaking than in writing. There is almost always a more formal way of conveying the same idea. In this unit we look at phrasal verbs formed from do and make.

Here are some of the most useful phrasal verbs based on do and make.

phrasal verb	meaning	example do with	need, want	I could do with something to eat.
do without	manage without	We'll have to do without a holiday this year as money is so short.
do away with	abolish	Slavery was not done away with until last century.
do out of	prevent from having (by deceit)	He did me out of my rightful inheritance.
make for	move in the direction of	Let's make for the city centre and find a restaurant on the way.

make up for	compensate for	The superb food at the hotel made up for the uncomfortable rooms.
make up to	be nice to in order to get s.t.	He made up to her until she agreed to help.

Some phrasal verbs have a number of different meanings; do up can mean not only 'fasten' but also 'renovate' and 'put into a bundle'. Similarly, make out can mean 'claim', 'manage to see' and 'understand' as well as 'write' or 'complete'; make up can mean 'compose' or 'invent'; it can also mean 'constitute' or 'form', 'put cosmetics on', 'prepare by mixing together various ingredients' and 'make something more numerous or complete'.

There are a lot of other common expressions based on do and make.

You do: the housework / some gardening / the washing-up / homework / your best / the shopping / the cooking / business with..., and so on.

You make: arrangements / an agreement / a suggestion / a decision / a cup of tea / war / an attempt / a phone call / the best of... / an effort / an excuse / a mistake / a bed / a profit / a loss / love / the most of / a noise / a good or bad impression / a success of... / a point of... / allowances for... / a gesture / a face / fun of... / a fuss of... / a go (a success) of..., and so on.

The more collocations with do and make you learn, the more you will get a 'feel' for the difference between the two verbs.

92 Headline English

Headline writers try to catch the reader's eye by using as few words as possible. The language headlines use is, consequently, unusual in a number of ways.

- Grammar words like articles or auxiliary verbs are often left out, e.g. EARLY CUT FORECAST IN INTEREST RATES
- A simple form of the verb is used, e.g. QUEEN OPENS HOSPITAL TODAY
- The infinitive is used to express the fact that something is going to happen in the future, e.g. PRESIDENT TO VISIT MINE

B

Newspaper headlines use a lot of distinctive vocabulary. They prefer words that are usually shorter and generally sound more dramatic than ordinary English words. The words marked * can be used either as nouns or verbs.

newspaper word	meaning	newspaper word	meaning aid *	help	key	essential, vital axe *	cut, remove	link *	connection boss *	manager, director	poll *	election / public opinion survey

head *		probe *	investigation
clash *	dispute	quit	leave, resign
curb *	restraint, limit	riddle	mystery
cut *	reduction	strife	conflict
drama	tense situation	talks	discussions drive *	campaign, effort	threat	danger
gems	jewels	vow *	promise
go-ahead	approval	wed	marry
hit	affect badly

Newspaper headlines often use abbreviations, e.g. PM for Prime Minister, MP for Member of Parliament. (See Unit 98 for more abbreviations.)

Some newspapers also enjoy making jokes in their headlines. They do this by playing with words or punning, e.g. a wet open air concert in London by the opera singer Luciano Pavarotti was described as:

TORRENTIAL RAIN IN MOST ARIAS [‘most areas’]

An announcement that a woman working at the Mars chocolate company had got an interesting new job was:

WOMAN FROM MARS TO BE FIRST BRITON IN SPACE

93 US English

A English in the USA differs considerably from British English. Pronunciation is the most striking difference but there are also a number of differences in vocabulary and spelling as well as slight differences in grammar. On the whole, British people are exposed to a lot of American English on TV, in films and so on and so they will usually understand most American vocabulary.

American spelling is usually simpler. For example, British English words ending in -our and -re, end in -or and -er in American English, e.g. colour/color, centre/center. There are differences in individual words too, e.g. British 'plough' becomes 'plow'. The American spelling usually tries to correspond more closely to pronunciation.

C Here are some common US words with their British equivalents.

Travel and on the street		In the home
American English	British English	American English	British English gasoline	petrol	antenna	aerial truck	lorry	elevator	lift
baggage	luggage	eraser	rubber blow-out	puncture	apartment	flat sidewalk	pavement	closet	wardrobe
line	queue	drapes	curtains vacation	holiday	faucet	tap
trunk (of car)	boot	kerosene	paraffin hood (of car)	bonnet	Scotch tape	sellotape
cab	taxi	yard	garden
freeway	motorway	cookie	biscuit
round trip	return	candy	sweets railway car	railway carriage	garbage	rubbish
engineer (on train)	engine driver	diaper	nappy
baby carriage	pram	panti-hose	tights

Note also: the fall = autumn semester = term [semester is becoming common in Britain.]

D Here are some words and phrases which can cause confusion when used by Brits and Americans talking together because they mean something different in each 'language'.

when they say:	an American means what a Brit calls:	and a Brit means what an American calls:
a bill	a (bank) note	a check (in a café)
the first floor	the ground floor	the second floor
pants	trousers	underpants
potato chips	potato crisps	french fries
purse	a handbag	a wallet
subway	an underground railway	an underpass
vest	a waistcoat	an undershirt
wash up	wash your hands	wash the dishes

94 Other Englishes

US or American English (see Unit 93) is not the only special variety of English. Each area of the English-speaking world has developed its own special characteristics. This is usually mainly a matter of vocabulary and pronunciation. This unit just gives you a small taste of some of the different varieties of English by drawing your attention to vocabulary used in various English-speaking regions. All the words covered in this unit would be understood by educated native speakers of British English although they might not choose to use them themselves. They are all words which you may come across in your own reading, listening or viewing.

Australian English is particularly interesting for its rich store of highly colloquial words and expressions. Australian colloquialisms often involve shortening a word. Sometimes the ending '-ie' or '-o' is then added, e.g. a smoko (from smoking), is a 'tea or coffee break' and a milko delivers the milk; beaut, short for 'beautiful' means 'great'. Because of the current popularity of Australian TV programmes and films, some of these words are now being used by British people too.

Indian English, on the other hand, is characterised by sounding more formal than British English. It has retained in everyday usage words that are found more in the classics of nineteenth century literature than in contemporary TV programmes from London, e.g. The bereaved are condoled and the Prime Minister is felicitated on his or her birthday. An Indian might complain of a pain in his bosom (rather than his chest) and an Indian bandit is referred to as a miscreant.

Scottish English uses a number of special dialect words. Some of the more common of these are worth learning.

aye : yes	loch : lake	dreich : dull
ben : mountain	to mind : to remember	janitor : caretaker
brae : bank (of river)	bairn : child	lassie : girl
dram : drink (usually whisky)	bonny : beautiful	outwith : outside
glen : valley	burn : stream	wee : small
kirk : church	stay : live	ken : know

E Black English is the term used to refer to the English which originated in the Caribbean islands and has now spread to many parts of the UK, Canada and the USA. Listed below are some words which are characteristic of Black English but are also now used in other varieties of English. Many are particularly associated with the music world.

dreadlocks : Rastafarian hairstyle	beat : exhausted
chick : girl	dig : understand
jam : improvise	pad : bed
rap : street-talk	square : dull

95 Slang

A

Slang is a particular kind of colloquial language. It refers to words and expressions which are extremely informal. Slang helps to make speech vivid, colourful and interesting but it can easily be used inappropriately. Although slang is mainly used in speech, it is also often found in the popular press.

B

It can be risky for someone who is not a native speaker to use slang.

Firstly because some slang expressions may cause offence to some sections of the population. For example, most policemen are quite happy to be referred to as coppers but are offended by the term pigs. Similarly, you could probably use the word sozzled (meaning drunk) in front of anyone but using the words, pissed or arseholed, which also mean drunk, could upset some people.

Secondly, slang words date very quickly. Different generations, for instance, have used different slang expressions to say that something was 'wonderful'.

pre-war: top-hole	1970s: ace, cosmic
1940s: wizard	1980s: brill, wicked
1960s: fab, groovy

It can be possible to work out a native speaker's age from the expressions which they use, as people tend to stick with the slang expressions of their youth.

To sum up, you may find it interesting to learn about slang and you may come across slang expressions (particularly when you are watching films or reading popular newspapers or novels) but you might be well advised to avoid using slang yourself.

C

Here are some examples of some slang words and expressions which you may come across. The ones which are most likely to cause offence are underlined.

Expressions for money: dough, bread, dosh, loot, brass, spondulicks

Expressions for the police: pigs, fuzz, cop(per)s, bill

Expressions for drunk: pissed, sozzled, paralytic, legless, arseholed

Expressions for a stupid person: wally, prat, nerd, jerk, dickhead, plonker, pillock

Expressions for lavatory: loo, lav, bog, john Expressions for drink: booze, plonk (wine), a snifter, a snort

Drug-related expressions: a fix, dope, grass, high, stoned, snow (heroin)

Prison-related expressions: nick (prison), nark (informer), screw (warder)

D

Slang is often used by one particular group and is unintelligible to other people. Here are some examples from American truck-drivers using CB radio to talk to each other.

grandma lane: slow lane

five finger discount: stolen goods

super cola: beer

doughnuts: tyres

anklebiters: children

affirmative: yes

motion lotion: fuel

eyeballs: headlights

Exercises

95.1 Replace the slang words which are underlined in the sentences below with more formal equivalents. If the meaning is not given opposite, then it should be possible to guess what it is. Notice that some of the words have a slang meaning which is different from their everyday meaning.

- 1 The newsreader on TV last night seemed to be pissed as he was reading the news.
- 2 He's quite a nice bloke really.
- 3 I've got a terrible belly ache – I think I'd better make an appointment with the quack.
- 4 Her dad was furious when he learnt he had to wear a penguin suit to the wedding.
- 5 Can you lend me some dosh till tomorrow?
- 6 I know there'll be plenty of nosh but do we need to take some booze to the party?
- 7 Have you got wheels or shall we call a taxi?
- 8 I'm dying for a cuppa. I haven't had one since breakfast.
- 9 Can I use your loo, please?
- 10 I was absolutely gobsmacked when she told me she was leaving.

95.2 Match the statements on the left with the responses to them on the right.

- |                                     |                                  |
|-------------------------------------|----------------------------------|
| 1 How was the party?                | Let's take him home.             |
| 2 What does that guy over there do? | Sure. I'll keep my eyes skinned. |
| 3 He's getting legless.             | He's in the nick.                |
| 4 Keep a lookout for the pigs.      | It's in a drawer, over here.     |
| 5 Where's the dough?                | He's a cop.                      |
| 6 Where's her hubby?                | Let's go for a run in the motor. |
| 7 What'll we do tomorrow?           | Wicked!                          |

95.3 A particular well-known kind of slang is Cockney rhyming slang where an expression is used in place of something that it rhymes with.

Example: trouble and strife = wife    apples and pears = stairs

How would you translate the Cockney rhyming slang expressions in the sentences below?

- 1 Let's have a butcher's (short for butcher's hook) at your homework.
- 2 Just look at those Gawd forbids playing football!
- 3 It's on the Cain and Abel next to the phone.
- 4 What a set of Hampstead Heath!
- 5 She'll get him to the lean and lurch by hook or by crook.
- 6 Have you seen my titfer? (short for tit for tat)

95.4 Another common way of making slang words is by using short forms or loosely pronounced forms of ordinary words. Thus fab is a slang form of 'fabulous' and hubby is a slang form of 'husband'. Can you work out the meanings of the following underlined slang words?

- |                               |                             |                                |
|-------------------------------|-----------------------------|--------------------------------|
| 1 He's my fella .      | 3 It was a freebie . | 5 I took a sickie .     |
| 2 Let's have brekkie . | 4 He's a brickie .   | 6 Let's have a barbie . |

Example: 1 on a bus

3	Nothing to declare	7	FISHING STRICTLY PROHIBITED	11	These seats are appreciated by the old and infirm
4	Clearance sale starts today	8	Cycles for hire or sale

96.4 What notice would a café-owner put up if they wanted to:

- 1 indicate that their café was now open for coffee?
- 2 let people know that the café staff can speak Spanish?
- 3 stop people from smoking in their café?
- 4 let people know that they can buy free-range eggs there too?
- 5 ask people not to fix notices onto their wall?
- 6 tell people that they could rent rooms there overnight?

96.5 If you are in or go to visit an English-speaking country, make a collection in your vocabulary book of any notices that you see.

97 Words and gender

In this unit we look at the problems of using words in a way that is not offensive to either gender. In English, a lot of words are marked as masculine or feminine by suffixes, but many other words have 'female' or 'male' associations and should be used carefully.

A Suffixes marking gender

-er(-or)/-ess: traditionally used to mark male (m) and female (f), e.g. actress (f) / actor (m); waitress (f) / waiter (m).

These two words are still often used in both forms, but forms such as authoress, poetess, murderess and manageress are considered old-fashioned. If you want to be neutral, you can use the -er/-or suffix for male or female.

Schoolmistress/master sound old-fashioned, use teacher instead; air hostess also sounds out of date, use flight attendant (neutral) or stewardess.

B -man, -woman and -person

Traditional social roles often meant that -man was used even for roles performed by women. Now many people prefer a neutral form for both sexes, if there is one available.

neutral	traditional male	traditional female
chair(person)	chairman	chairwoman spokesperson	spokesman	spokeswoman police officer	policeman	policewoman
—	postman	postwoman
—	fisherman	—
bartender	barman	barmaid
businessperson	businessman	businesswoman firefighter	fireman	—
flight attendant	steward	stewardess / air hostess
head (teacher)	headmaster	headmistress

'Social' marking of words

Some words, particularly the names of jobs, are socially marked as belonging to one gender, even though the words are neutral in form, e.g. in English, nurse was considered so 'female' that if a man was a nurse, he was often referred to as a male nurse.

Just consider your own reaction to these words, and whether most people would tend to think of a man or a woman upon hearing them.

barber    hairdresser    burglar    secretary    farmer    butcher

Note: bachelor and spinster can both have negative or undesirable associations. Use unmarried or single (man/woman) instead. Likewise, instead of fiancé(e), you can use partner, especially for someone you live with as a couple but are not married to.

Many women nowadays prefer the title Ms /məz/, rather than Miss or Mrs.

Exercises

- 97.1 Look at this rather sexist advertisement for an airline. Change the wording to make it more neutral.

Now! Eagle Airlines offers even more to the businessman who needs comfort.

Let us fly you to your destination in first-class comfort, looked after by the best-trained air hostesses in the world. Any businessman knows that he must arrive fresh and ready for work no matter how long the journey. With Eagle Diplomat-Class you can do just that. And, what's more, your wife can travel with you on all intercontinental flights for only 25% of the normal fare! Your secretary can book you on any flights 24 hours a day on 0557-465769. All she has to do is lift the phone.

- 97.2 Here are some more names of jobs and occupations. Are they marked for gender either in the form of the word itself, or 'socially' marked as typically male or female? How are they translated into your language, by neutral or by gender-marked words?

1 conductor	4 typist	7 general	10 milkman
2 shepherd	5 station master	8 detective	11 tailor
3 cheerleader	6 dressmaker	9 monk

- 97.3 These words include some that many people consider sexist. Put the words into appropriate pairs with their neutral alternatives.

cabin attendant	man-hours	unmanned	air hostess	unstaffed	spinster
human beings	single woman	mankind	person-hours

- 97.4 Change gender-marked words into neutral ones.

- 1 We shall have to elect a new chairman next month.
- 2 Several firemen and policemen were hurt in the riots.
- 3 A spokesman for the store said the manageress had decided to resign.
- 4 I wonder what time the postman comes every day.
- 5 I can't see a barman anywhere. Shall I press this bell and see if someone comes?
- 6 Her brother's a male nurse, and she's an authoress.

- 97.5 Make this letter more neutral.

The Manager
Frinstowe Engineering Ltd

22/11/92

Dear Sir,

I am a spinster aged 22 and am seeking employment. I saw your advertisement for part-time workers in The Globe last week. However, your 24-hour answering service seemed to be unmanned when I tried it. Could you please send me application forms by post? Thank you.

Yours sincerely,

Sally Hewings (Miss)

98 Abbreviations

Some abbreviations are read as individual letters:

WHO (W-H-O)	World Health Organisation	IRA	Irish Republican Army
PLO	Palestine Liberation Organisation	UN	United Nations
BBC	British Broadcasting Corporation	PM	Prime Minister
ANC	African National Congress	MP	Member of Parliament

In the following three cases, the name of each country and the name of its secret police are pronounced as individual letters/numbers.

CIA (USA)    MI5 (UK)    KGB (former USSR, now CIS)

Note: When these abbreviations are stressed words in the sentence, the stress falls on the last letter, e.g. She works for the CIA. I heard it on the BBC.

B

Some abbreviations are read as words; we call them acronyms.

NATO	/'neɪtəʊ/	North Atlantic Treaty Organisation
OPEC	/'əʊpek/	Organisation of Petroleum Exporting Countries
AIDS	/eɪdz/	Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome

Some acronyms have become so normal as words that people do not think of them as abbreviations any longer, and so they are not written all in capital letters.

laser    radar    yuppy    Esso

C

Some abbreviations are only written forms; they are still pronounced as the full word.

Mr (Mister)    Dr (Doctor)    St (Saint or Street)

D

Abbreviations are used in the organisation of language.

etc.	/et'setɹə/ and so on	[Latin: et cetera]
i.e. (I-E):	that is to say	[Latin: id est]
PTO (P-T-O)	please turn over
NB (N-B)	please note	[Latin: nota bene]
RSVP (R-S-V-P)	please reply	[French: répondez s'il vous plaît]
e.g. (E-G)	for example	[Latin: exempli gratia]

E

TV or telly (television)	board (blackboard)	bike (bicycle)	case (suitcase)
exam (examination)	plane (aeroplane)	rep (business representative)

Some abbreviations you might see on a letter/fax/envelope.

c/o	care of	[e.g. T. Smith, c/o J. Brown; the letter goes to J. Brown's address]
enc.	enclosed	[e.g. enc. application form]
PS	postscript	[extra message after the letter has been ended]
asap	as soon as possible	[e.g. ring me asap]

99 New words in English

A

No language stands still. New words and expressions are always being created, usually because something new is invented or sometimes just for fun. No government committee decides whether a new word is acceptable or not; if it is used frequently, and in a variety of contexts, it will find its way into the dictionary. Here are some of the words and expressions that have come into English since 1980.

Exercises

- |                  |   |
|------------------|---|

- 8 The post-war baby-boomers are now becoming grandparents.

100 Discourse markers

Discourse markers are small words and phrases whose job it is to organise, comment on or in some way frame what we are saying or writing. A common everyday example is the use of well in speech:

A: So you live in Boston? B: Well, near Boston.

Well here shows that the speaker is aware he/she is changing the direction of the conversation in some way (not giving the expected 'yes' answer). In other words, well is a comment on what is being said. Another example is how teachers use words like right and okay to organise what is happening in a classroom:

Teacher: Right/okay, let's have a look at exercise 3.

A

Common markers to organise different stages of talk (as in the teacher example).

Now, what shall we do next? So, would you like to come to the table now, please?
Good, I'll ring you on Thursday, then. Well then, what was it you wanted to talk about?
Now then, I want you to look at this picture. [said by someone in control of the conversation, e.g. a teacher]
Fine/Great, let's leave it at that, then, shall we?

B

In these mini-dialogues, the markers in bold modify or comment on what is being said.

- |   |  |
|---|--|
| A: It's cold, isn't it?   | A: What's her number?  |
| B: Yeah.  | B: Let me see, I have it here somewhere...   |
| A: Mind you , it is November, so it's not surprising.[an afterthought – however] | [a hesitation – gaining time]  |
| A: It's quite a problem...  | A: And he said he was go –   |
| B: Listen/Look , why don't you let me sort it out?                                   | B: Well, that's typical!   |
| A: Would you? Thanks a lot.[introducing a suggestion/point]                             | A: Hang on / Hold on! Let me tell you what he said![preventing an interruption] |

Here are some other similar markers.

I can't do that. You see, I'm only the secretary. [explaining]
 He was, you know, sort of... just standing there. [hesitation]

C

Common markers in written English for organising a formal text.

First / Firstly / First of all, we must consider... } for lists
 Next, it is important to remember that... } Finally/Lastly, we should look at... [NB not 'at last']
In summary, we can say that... [summing up the main points]
In conclusion, I should like to say that... [finishing the text]

D

Markers for explaining, rephrasing, etc., in speech and writing.

Memorising words requires reinforcement; in other words / that is to say, you have to study the same words over and over again.
 Some words are hard to say, for example / for instance, 'crisps'.
 She is, as it were / so to speak, living in a world of her own.
 [make what you are saying sound less definite/precise]

Exercises

- 100.1 Underline all the discourse markers in this monologue. Not all of them are on the left-hand page.

'Well, where shall I start? It was last summer and we were just sitting in the garden, sort of doing nothing much. Anyway, I looked up and...see we have this kind of long wall at the end of the garden, and it's...like...a motorway for cats, for instance, that big fat black one you saw, well, that one considers it has a right of way over our vegetable patch, so...where was I? Yes, I was looking at that wall, you know, day-dreaming as usual, and all of a sudden there was this new cat I'd never seen before, or rather, it wasn't an ordinary cat at all...I mean, you'll never believe what it was...'

- 100.2 Here are some small dialogues where there are no markers used at all, which would be unusual in real informal talk. Add markers from A, B and D opposite and from exercise 1 above, where you think the speakers might use them.

- |   |  |
| 1 A: Are you a football fan?B: I like it; I wouldn't say I was a fan.   | 4 A: Which number is yours?B: (pause)...it's that one here, yes, this one.   |
| 2 A: I'll take care of these.B: That's everything.A: See you next week.B: That was a very useful meeting.   | 5 A: He's looking exhausted.B: Yes, he is.A: He has an awful lot of responsibility, so it's hardly surprising.   |
| 3 A: It was last Monday. I was coming home from work. I saw this ragged old man approaching me. I stopped him –B: Jim Dibble!A: Let me tell you what happened first.B: They were off. | 6 A: What do you mean 'cold'?B: She's not friendly, very distant. Last week I gave her a jolly smile and she...scowled at me.A: What do you expect? I've seen the way you smile at people, it puts |

- 100.3 Fill the gaps with markers often found in written texts. You may need some which are not on the left-hand page. The first letter of each phrase/word is given.

Crime and Punishment

F..... (1), it is important to understand why people commit crimes, i.....

Follow-up: If you can, make a recording of a natural conversation between native speakers (get their permission, but don't say why you need it). What markers do they use?

Key

Many of your answers will depend on your own particular interests and needs. It is only possible for the key to suggest answers in some cases.

Unit 1

A 1 d    2 b    3 b    4 a

B 1 Some possible answers:

- a) a chilly day
- b) to dissuade someone from doing something
- c) a popular king / to crown a king
- d) up to the ears in work
- e) independent of someone / an independent country
- f) get married to someone

- 2 a) scissors – only used in plural; if you want to count scissors, you have to say, for example, ‘two pairs of scissors’.
- b) weather – uncountable
- c) teach, taught, taught; teach someone to do something; teach someone French.
- d) advice – uncountable; a piece of advice; verb = to advise (regular).
- e) lose, lost, lost
- f) trousers – only used in plural; if you want to count trousers you have to say, for example, ‘three pairs of trousers’.

- 3 a) The ‘b’ in comb is silent, as it is in tomb and lamb too.
- b) The final ‘e’ in catastrophe is pronounced as a syllable as it is in apostrophe. Catastrophe, has 4 syllables. (See Index for pronunciation)
- c) The stress is on the first syllable in photograph, and on the second syllable in photographer; it is on the third syllable in photographical. The ‘rule’ is that the stress in long words in English very frequently falls on the third syllable from the end of the word.

D The picture is a good clue to help you understand tortoise. You may recognise the word shell in shelled (as in egg shell, for example). Similarly, your knowledge of life and long together with the context should enable you to work out what lifespan and longevity mean. The whole context of the sentence should help you to work out the meaning of tended. Some of the underlined words may be similar to words in your own language which can be another useful way of working out the meaning of a word you have not seen before.

E Research into language learning can help you to prepare a sensible vocabulary learning plan. What you plan to do will, of course, depend very much on your own circumstances. You cannot realistically aim to learn as many new words a day if you are working a full day at something else as if you are doing a full-time English course. In general, however, 10 to 20 words a week is probably a reasonable aim.

It does not matter where you try to learn vocabulary but it seems to be better to do a little on a regular basis rather than a lot infrequently. Research also suggests that it is a good idea to revise your work on a very regular basis – once a week, perhaps, but do not revise only the words that you’ve learnt in that week. Look back over your work of the previous month(s).

Unit 2

A 1 Possible words to add: purr, scratch, tomcat, tail and whiskers

- 2 a) Child, tooth and ox are all words with irregular plurals (children, teeth, oxen). You could add more examples, e.g. mouse (mice); goose (geese); foot (feet); phenomenon (phenomena).

- b) Cut, split and burst are all irregular verbs whose three basic forms are identical to each other (i.e. cut, cut, cut; split, split, split and burst, burst, burst). You could add put, hurt and set to this group.
- c) Information, furniture and food are all uncountable nouns – you could add milk, money and work to this group.

3 Possible words and expressions to add:

- a) pricey, underpriced, price tag b) to lend someone a hand, a handful; a handbag, underhand, etc.

B 1 Possible word tree for school:

2 Possible ways to complete the word forks:

magnificent		kick
brehtaking		hit
superb	views	throw	a ball stunning		catch
splendid		bounce

- 3 a) drive    b) fly    c) Riding

Unit 3

3.1 The list is probably connected to a lesson or lessons about time or a text about someone's relationship with time. A possible organisation might include bringing the clock words together in a word-map or bubble diagram (clock, wristwatch, hands, minute-hand); other words could then be added later (hour-hand, face/dial, digital, etc.)

Tell the time and What time do you make it? could form a separate list of 'time phrases', to which others could be added, e.g. Have you got the time?, My watch is fast/slow, etc. Drowsy and wide awake could be treated as antonyms, and some notes about the usage of beneath and under would be useful. The list could have information about word-class too.

3.2 Theatre seems the obvious word.

3.3 Other testing systems include re-entering any word you have difficulty remembering, so that it appears more than once in the notebook. Another useful discipline is to set yourself a small, fixed number of words to memorise each week, e.g. 20, and to tick them off in the book as you do them. You could also take out any ten words from your book and put them on individual slips of paper which you stick in prominent places around your room or house, e.g. on the fridge door, so that you are regularly looking at them.

3.4

noun	verb	adjective	person
production	produce	productive	producer industry	industrialise	industrial	industrialist
export	export	export	exporter

Note the change in stress from export (noun) to export (verb); adjective: export, e.g. Our export figures have increased; person: exporter.

Unit 4

4.1 Suggested answers:

- 1 style situation people 4 extremely mainly frequently
 2 mean be know 5 of by for
 3 informal colloquial suitable

4.2 Obviously your answers here depend on how you answered 4.1. If you chose the same words as we did, then your answers to 4.2 will be as follows:

style C situation C people U (Remember that it needs a plural verb.)
 mean T, R be IT, IR know T, IR

4.3

verb	infinitive	-ing form	past participle
define	define	defining	defined mean	mean	meaning	meant
write	write	writing	written

4.4 1 root – form prefix – in suffix – al

- 2 formal
 3 casual e.g. of dress
 4 form, formality, formless, deform, reform, reformation and so on.
 5 a) an informal occasion
 b) We use a more informal kind of English when we speak than when we write.

4.5 syllable onomatopoeia register colloquial pejorative collocation comma semi-colon apostrophe (note that there are four syllables in apostrophe) hyphen exclamation mark question mark brackets inverted commas capitals

4.6 1 converse 2 lavatory 3 man 4 tolerate 5 violin

4.7 1 terrorist 2 skinny 3 wordy 4 mean 5 cunning 6 extravagant

4.8 Some possible answers:

countable or abstract noun; unfamiliar or polysyllabic word;
 colloquial expression or colloquial language.

4.9 ( ) brackets ? question mark ' apostrophe ; semi-colon – dash - hyphen , comma “ ” inverted commas

Unit 5

- 5.2 1 All the words are possible. Some people feel that sofa and couch are a bit 'lower class', and that settee is the so-called 'refined, middle-class' word. Divan could also be used, but its normal British English meaning is a kind of bed with a very thick base. It can also, less commonly, mean a kind of sofa with no back or arms.
 2 Luxury most typically collocates with yacht, though ketch (a double-masted sailing ship) would also be possible. A dinghy is a very small, open boat, hardly suitable for going around the world. Sailing boat sounds just too general here, since it covers all types of boats with sails.

- 3 Wellingtons is the most likely word, since they are rubber boots designed to keep the water out. Boots are any kind of high-sided footwear. Bootees suggests a kind of ankle-length shoe, fairly lightweight, usually with fur inside for cold weather, often referring to what babies wear.
- 4 Dinghy would be a good word here (see 2 above), though sailing boat would also fit, as it's quite general.

5.3 1 3    2 1.1    3 4    4 1.1

5.4 1 education    2 passport    3 length    4 liberty    5 revision    6 brother

There is no key for Unit 6.

Unit 7

- 7.1 1 kip – to sleep / have a sleep
- 2 a pal – a friend; nowadays, mate is perhaps the most common informal word for 'friend' in British English
- 3 a chap – a man; chap does have associations of being a middle-class word and perhaps not used so much by young people
- 4 cheerio – goodbye; bye and ta-ta (pron: /tə tɑ:/) are also common, ta-ta being the most informal
- 5 swot – study hard, e.g. for an exam; you can call someone a swot too
- 6 ta – thank you, or (slightly less formal) thanks
- 7 brainy – clever / intelligent; intelligent is the most formal.

7.2 Suggested changes:

JIM: Annie, can you lend me five quid?

ANNIE: What for?

JIM: Well, I've got to go and see my mum and dad, and my bike's not working, so I'll have to take/get a taxi.

ANNIE: Can't you phone/ring/call them and say you can't come?

JIM: Well, I could, except I want to go because they always have lots of food, and the fridge at our flat (or 'our place', which is a common way of talking about your house/flat) is empty, as usual.

ANNIE: Can't you get the / go by tube?

JIM: Erm...

ANNIE: Anyway, the answer's no.

For the sake of practice, we have created here a dialogue that probably has more of a concentration of informal words than would occur in reality. Don't forget the advice given at the beginning of the unit about using too much informal language.

- 7.3 1 A teenage boy would probably say a date (or 'Fancy going out?'), not an appointment in this situation; appointment is for business contexts; too formal.
- 2 Offspring, if the parent used it, would be heard as humorous, certainly not the normal word for this situation; children or kids (informal) would be the normal words. Offspring would be suitable for legal contexts, religious language and serious history books/biographies; too formal.
- 3 As with 2, this would be heard as humorous/mock-serious. Most people would say 'I never drink' or 'I never touch alcohol' in this situation. Alcoholic beverages is very formal/legalistic and you might see it on, e.g. a notice prohibiting drinking in a particular place or the sale of drink at particular times; too formal.

- 4 Probably acceptable. People who work together or share an institutional context often develop a high degree of acceptable informality. Such is often the case in British universities and colleges. In such institutional settings, clippings and other short forms are widely used by everyone and operate as a sort of slang among the people involved, and are not heard as disrespectful.
- 5 The use of ads here sounds out of place compared with the formal tone of the rest of the letter ('Dear Sir/Madam... I should like to enquire... etc.'), so it is too informal. Over the phone, however, the same person might well say 'Could you tell me how much it'd cost to put an ad in your paper?' in order to create a friendly relationship with the person answering the call.

- 7.4 1 in motion      3 a) to regret    b) to purchase    c) to address
 2 to alight          4 Hi! Bye!

7.5 Suggested versions:

- 1 Children shouldn't / are asked not to drop rubbish/litter in the play-area.
- 2 You can only get your expenses/money back if you've got / if you hand in receipts with the date on.

Unit 8

 2 classical violinist                          6 dishwasher (normally written as one word)

 2 a typewriter – a thing (machine for typing); the person is a typist.
 3 a ticket-holder – person or thing; a person who has a ticket, e.g. for a concert, or a kind of wallet for holding tickets, e.g. a season ticket for the train/bus.
 4 a record player – a thing (machine for playing records).
 5 a cleaner – person or thing; person who cleans, e.g. in an office or other place of work; a substance or instrument for cleaning, e.g. 'this cleaner will get the grease off your oven'.
 6 a smoker – person or thing; a person who smokes; a short name for a seat in the smoking area of a plane or train (or the whole smoking compartment on a train).
 7 a drinker – person (someone who drinks alcohol, usually regularly or in large quantities).

- 8.5 1 forgivable      2 admission      3 laziness      4 productive      5 readable

- 8.7 1 neighbourhood – it is a place (an area); all the others refer to human relationships.
 2 step-ladder – all the others means 'thing for doing x', e.g. hair-restorer restores your hair, a plant-holder holds a plant, etc.
 3 compliment – all the others are verb + 'ment', e.g. appoint + ment. There is no verb 'compliment'.
 4 handful – all the others are adjectives; handful is a noun, meaning a pile of something about as big as you can hold in your hands, e.g. a handful of sand.
 5 worship – all the others are kinds of human relationships; Worship refers to paying tribute to a God, or, figuratively, as a verb, to loving someone very very much, e.g. 'he worships his teacher'.

Unit 9

11.5 1 Jealousy 2 Happiness 3 Hope 4 Love 5 permanence; beauty
 ('Coke' in question 2 means the fuel produced while taking gas from coal. A migraine is a very bad headache.)

11.6 How you answer this question is a matter of your own originality. Here are some 'real' quotations about these abstract nouns, however:

- 1 Freedom is an indivisible word. If we want to enjoy it, and to fight for it, we must be prepared to extend it to everyone.
- 2 Friendship is unnecessary, like philosophy, like art... It has no survival value; rather it is one of those things that gives value to survival.
- 3 Life is a foreign language; all men mispronounce it.
- 4 Four be the things I'd be better without:
Love, curiosity, freckles and doubt.
- 5 Where there is no imagination, there is no horror.

Unit 12

Note that when you are looking compound adjectives up in the dictionary, you may sometimes find the word listed under its second element rather than its first. Sometimes, in some dictionaries, the word will not be listed at all if the meaning is absolutely clear from an understanding of the two elements.

Notice that the descriptions of Tom and Melissa on the left-hand page are light-hearted and far-fetched! They are not examples of good style as such long lists of adjectives would be inappropriate in a normal composition.

12.1 Some possible answers:

- |             |               |              |              |

| fire        | high          | care         | hard         |

12.2 Here is one possible way of categorising the words. There will be many other ways of categorising them. What is important is not how you categorise them but the process of doing the exercise itself. The process should help you to learn the words.

Words connected with money: cut-price duty-free interest-free

hand-made remote-controlled sugar-free bullet-proof

Words connected with time: last-minute long-standing off-peak part-time

Unit 23

23.1 Suggested answers:

- 1 I accept (or more formal: I acknowledge) that you weren't solely to blame, but you must take some responsibility. (Accept and acknowledge are most suitable here since the speaker is prepared to agree with one aspect but wants to go on to make another point to support his/her case.)
- 2 Okay, I admit I was wrong, you were right; he is a nice guy. (This seems to be a situation where somebody is accusing someone or trying to get them to say they were wrong. Admit is ideal in this case.)
- 3 The company acknowledges that you have suffered some delay, but we do not accept liability. (Acknowledge is perhaps best here; it is often used in formal, legalistic situations like this because it simply says 'We understand your message, but we do not necessarily accept any blame/responsibility'; admit might suggest the company does accept legal responsibility; accept is also possible though less formal.)
- 4 She accepted / conceded that we had done all we could, but she was still not content. ## Unit 24

24.1 Suggested answers:

- 1 Further to
- 2 In addition to / As well as / Apart from / Besides
- 3 etc. / and so on
- 4 in addition to / as well as / apart from / besides
- 5 Furthermore / Moreover / Likewise

Comments: In (2) and (4), the choice is quite wide, but, depending on which one she chooses for (2), the writer would probably then choose a different one, to avoid repeating herself, for (4).

In (5), if she wanted to use what's more, the writer would probably write it in full as what is more, so as not to sound too informal. However, what's more / what is more can often sound a little abrupt and argumentative (as if you're trying very hard to convince the reader) and might sound just a bit too strong here.

In (3), etc. is slightly more formal than and so on, and the writer may well wish to avoid sounding too informal.

In (5), furthermore / moreover add her previous experience on to the rest; likewise not only adds the information but suggests it is of quite equal value to the other experience she has mentioned. Equally would not be suitable here, as it is best used when arguing points (trying to convince someone of the equal value of a point added on to other points).

King's College Chapel is in the Perpendicular style.

Most of the main hotels in the town are within walking distance of the centre.

The town centre tends to be terribly crowded on Saturdays.

A number of the colleges are built on the site of former monasteries or convents.

There are plenty of sports facilities catering for both young and old.

Those who enjoy boating must not miss the opportunity to go for a punt on the River Cam.

Most of the more picturesque colleges overlook the River Cam.

An interesting new Science Park has been built on the outskirts of the town.

45.7 Some possible answers:

The most picturesque parts of Cambridge are beside the river.
Cambridge is one of England's most historic towns.
The town could hardly be called spacious as most of its streets are very narrow.
Some of the eighteenth century buildings are particularly elegant.
The most magnificent building in the town, in my opinion, is the Pepys Library.
The town is at its most atmospheric on the day of a student graduation.
Tourists often find Cambridge's narrow lanes very quaint.
Cambridge is very lively at night because so many young people live there.
The city centre is quite hectic at weekends.
When the university is on vacation the town can suddenly seem quite deserted.
The market is particularly bustling on Saturdays.
The shops are always very crowded in the weeks before Christmas.
The shopping centre always seems to be packed with people.
We are lucky in that nowhere in the town is filthy; everywhere is quite clean.
Some of the suburbs have become quite run-down in recent years.
The old buildings in Cambridge are generally not allowed to become shabby but are kept in good repair.

Notice how people are compared to animals in sentences 10 and 11. This is quite common.

- 46.4 The words underlined below are worth learning. You can use them when talking about other animals too.

camel A mammal of the family, Camelidae, (2 species): the Bactrian, from cold deserts in Central Asia and domesticated elsewhere, and the dromedary; eats any vegetation; drinks salt water if necessary; closes slit-like nostrils to exclude sand; humps are stores of energy-rich fats. The two species may interbreed: the offspring has one hump; the males are usually sterile while the females are fertile.

- 46.5 The description of an elephant from the same encyclopaedia is given below. While it is unlikely that you would need or want to write anything quite so technical, look at it carefully and pick out any vocabulary from it that could also be useful for you to learn.

elephant A large mammal of the family, Elephantidae; almost naked grey skin; massive forehead; small eyes; upper incisor teeth form 'tusks'; snout elongated as a muscular, grasping 'trunk'; ears large and movable (used to radiate heat). There are two living species. The African elephant is the largest living land animal, with three sub-species. The Asian elephant has four sub-species. The African is larger with larger ears, a triangular tip on the top and bottom of the trunk tip (not just on the top) and obvious tusks in the female.

If you chose to write about another animal, compare your description if possible with one in an English-language encyclopaedia. If not ask a teacher to correct your work.

The Manager
Frintowe Engineering Ltd
22/11/92

Dear Sir or Madam,
I am aged 22, single, and am seeking employment. I saw your advertisement for part-time workers in The Globe last week. However, your 24-hour answering service seemed to be unstaffed when I tried it. Could you please send me application forms by post? Thank you.

Yours sincerely,

Sally Hewings (Ms)

Note: In real life, the first sentence of this letter would be unnecessary. (However, the word 'single' is more neutral than 'spinster'.) Also, if Sally puts (Ms) at the end, she does not have to say she is female; it is obvious.

Unit 100

'Well, where shall I start? It was last summer and we were just sitting in the garden, sort of doing nothing much. Anyway, I looked up and...see we have this kind of long wall at the end of the garden, and it's...like...a motorway for cats, for instance, that big fat black one you saw, well, that one considers it has a right of way over our vegetable patch, so...where was I? Yes, I was looking at that wall, you know, day-dreaming as usual, and all of a sudden there was this new cat I'd never seen before, or rather, it wasn't an ordinary cat at all...I mean, you'll never believe what it was...'

Comments:

Where/How shall I start/begin? This is a very common marker at the beginning of a story or monologue while the speaker is composing his/her thoughts.

Anyway is probably the most common marker in spoken story-telling to divide up the story into its different stages (introduction/main plot/resolution, etc.)

See is often used in informal talk instead of you see, when someone is clarifying or explaining something.

Like is often used when the speaker hesitates, or to make something less precise, a little more vague.

Where was I? is used when we want to come back to the main subject we were talking about after an interruption or diversion into another point or topic.

Yes is often used when we resume what we were talking about; it does not have to be an answer to a question from someone. No is also used in exactly the same way and could have been used here instead of yes.

Or rather is used when you change to a different word or a better/more accurate way of saying what you want to say.

I mean is used when you want to explain something or expand or illustrate what you are saying.

This extract is typical of the number of markers found in everyday informal talk. The speaker is not a 'lazy' or 'bad' speaker; everyone uses markers, even if they are not conscious of it or do not want to admit it! Informal conversation without markers sounds rather odd and strained, and a little too formal.
